DETROIT—(INS)—As the wildcat strike of UAW-CIO workers in the Chrysler corporation spread to a fourth plant today, keeping 28,000 war workers idle, the regional labor board summoned company and union officials before it to show cause why work should not be resumed immediately. The latest plant to be hit by the strike was the DeSOTO bomber factory, where 3,000 left their jobs at 10 a. m.

BULLETIN

DETROIT — (U.P.) — Leo La Motte, director of the Chrysler division of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), charged today that current strikes in Detroit war industries are being "fomented by high officials of the UAW because of political reasons."

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT—The entire war effort of Chrysler corporation was threatened today as upwards of 20,000 members of the UAW-CIO remained away from their jobs for a second day in the most serious work stoppage in Detroit since Pearl Harbor.

A company spokesman expressed fear the strikes, which closed three plants yesterday and disrupted production in a fourth, might spread to the huge Chrysler tank arsenal. The spokesman said all 85,000 Chrysler workers in the country might be affected in a few days.

Workers at the three plants walked out in protest over what UAW-CIO President R. J. Thomas described as "legitimate and serious grievances." Thomas said, however, the strikes were not authorized and added he believed the leaders are making a mistake trying to adjust these grievances through strikes."

Robert W. Conder, Chrysler director of labor relations, wired Thomas yesterday requesting him to urge the men to return to work.

Though the CIO chief had issued no formal back-to-work

EXTENDS TIME

PA Lets G, H, K Stamps Stay Valid Until June 7.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— To avert an end of the month buying rush, the office of price administration today extended for one week the expiration date of Blue Stamps G, H, and J for canned goods in war ration book No. 2. They will be good until June 7.

OPA made the next three sets of blue stamps—K, L, and M—good beginning Monday, May 24, and extended their expiration date from the end of June to July 7.

Blue stamps G, H, and J which have been valid through May, and L, and M therefore will all be valid during a two-week overlap period from May 24 to June 7.

Wars are won by WORK, and not by wishful words. Your country needs you. If you can't handle a full time job there are scores of part time jobs which you can accept.

If you are an able bodied man or woman and you are not holding down an important job, look over the HELP WANTED ADS in the News-Journal, or contact the U. S. Employment Office.

At Long Last, There's Now a Legitimate Reason for Delay on Route 30 Grade Work

Mud Hole Recalls Last Summer When Speed Was Possible.

Mansfield's $497,441 grade elimination program, still unfinished after nearly a year and a half of construction work, was running into new difficulties today—trouble which observers agree could have been avoided by action instead of excuses.

The crossing elimination on U. S. Route 30-N just west of Mansfield's corporation limits, was a mud hole today and will probably remain a mud hole for some days to come.

This year's late spring and May's rainy weather are factors which engineers of the Lombardo Construction company didn't figure on—and apparently didn't have to—when they got the construction contract which contained the promise that it would be finished last Nov. 31.

In the opinion of observers, West Fourth street residents and those compelled to travel detour routes these many months, the reason for the present situation is this:

The Lombardo Bros., didn't "hit the ball" when the ball was there to be hit.

Helping the delay, they agree, is the state department of highways which at no time has exerted any "pressure" to get the job done.

Instead, the highway department has listened with an attentive ear to Lombardo delay alibis—cold weather, difficulties in getting steel, transfer of equipment and now wet weather.

Nobody will argue that wet weather now—six months after the job was to have been finished—will permit any marked progress on the construction job.

But there is an argument—a big argument—that if the contractor had been pushed when weather conditions permitted, the project would now be complete.

Records show that the state highway department in other ways has been kind—very, very kind to the Lombardo Bros.

It was the Lombardo Bros., firm which built Cleveland's Bulkeley Freeway super highway structure. The Cleveland Plain Dealer found the highway surface crumbling this spring, a year after the concrete was laid.

The highway department defended the Lombardo contractors. The crumbling concrete wasn't their fault, the department said, and the state agreed to make repairs itself.

However, private engineers inspected the freeway and agreed it was faulty concrete that caused the highway crack-up.

And the highway department is still "satisfied" with the way the Route 30 project has been moving.

"Thirty days of favorable weather will see its completion," Vance T. Grimes, division engineer, said, and in reply to a question he added:

"Yes, we believe that in view of what the contractor has had to contend with, that the project is going ahead satisfactorily."

A striking factor which Grimes didn't elaborate on was where

Ration Stamp 18 Can Be Used For Shoes On June 16

A ray of hope beamed today for those Mansfielders who have been waiting to buy a pair of shoes in the second rationing period.

In Washington today the Office of Price Administration announced that Stamp No. 18 in War Ration Book 1 will become valid June 16 for the purchase of shoes. The OPA said the validity period of stamp 18 will be announced about June 1 when production and supply data now being received, has been thoroughly considered by all agencies involved.

As in the first shoe rationing period each member of a family has one stamp No. 18 interchangeable among members of the family living in the same household. Stamp No. 17, which expires June 15, has been valid since last Feb. 7.

Meanwhile C. C. Beelman, chairman of the Richland county rationing board, today warned motorists that B and C supplementary ration applications must be made two weeks prior to the expiration date shown on the present card.

Black-Out Violations to Be Studied Today by CD Heads

Asserting that "it's a good thing our organization shortcomings showed up this early," Capt. Jesse Schwab, Mansfield civilian defense commander, said today that reported violations of black-out regulations in Wednesday night's test would be taken up by the civilian defense council late this afternoon.

After hearing evidence in the cases, the council will decide whether the violators will be brought into court to answer charges.

Dissatisfied with the city's showing in the test, Capt. Schwab said "it might be a good idea to file charges in a few cases and show violators that this is a serious matter."

Persons who willingly refuse to turn out their lights, light cigarets where the matches can be seen from outside, and fail to acquaint themselves with the black-out rules endanger the lives of hundreds of others in the event of an air raid, the OCD commander asserted.

"We have a lot of work to do yet before we can stage the kind of black-out test we'd like to have," he said.

The council also was expected to study the city's air raid siren problem at today's session, possibly deciding on the purchase of additional equipment to make the alarm system more effective.

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, OCD co-ordinator, said after the Wednesday night test that the sirens in the southwest sections of the city were ineffective and the council undoubtedly would have to buy more of them.

Reports had reached the OCD council today that the sirens were heard plainly Wednesday night at Charles Mill lake and Mifflin seven miles east of Mansfield while residents of scattered sections of the city had difficulty hearing them.

AKRON—(U.P.)—A strike at the Ohio Edison company, which furnishes light and power for the Akron area, loomed today because of delay in contract negotiations between the company and the Utility Workers Organizing Committee (CIO).

FDR Says Biggest U. S. Forces In Pacific, Decisions Due Soon

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt disclosed today that the British-American chiefs of staff would submit some preliminary recommendations tonight to him and Prime Minister Churchill and he said probably final decisions on them would be made next week.

At the same time, the chief executive told a press conference it is true that a large majority of American forces outside the United States are in the Pacific.

The British prime minister had mentioned that in a speech to congress Wednesday, and the president said it is particularly true of the army and navy. About half of our air force is in the Pacific, he asserted.

Mr. Roosevelt also issued a statement hailing national maritime day tomorrow. Paying tribute to the men who sail and build the merchant vessels, he told reporters that they were helping to maintain a ring that is slowly and surely being closed around the Axis powers.

Asked if he could give a pro-

MAYOR VETOES PARKING FUND

Rejects Council Legislation Creating $20,000 Reserve From Meter Receipts.

Mayor W. J. Locke today exercised his veto powers for the first time in recent months when he rejected city council's ordinance to set up a $20,000 parking meter reserve fund.

The measure, sponsored by Councilman George Kyle, was passed by a five-to-two vote of council at a special meeting, May 13. Two councilmen were absent when the ordinance was passed.

While the mayor was unavailable for comment today on his veto, he voiced his opposition to the bill at the meeting when it was voted, telling council that the ordinance would tie up city funds and "tend to make the city a banker."

He pointed out then that there was no object in creating a fund

Circus Performs Today On Bowman Street Show Lot

Overcast skies didn't seem to put the damper on the circus atmosphere today as the Cole Bros. circus prepared to open its doors for the afternoon performance at 3 p. m. at the circus lot, west of Bowman street near the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company. The evening show starts at 8.

First circus of the season, the Cole Bros. show has created more than the usual excitement accompanying the big top.

Crowds gathered yesterday afternoon and evening to watch the setting up of the tents and other circus regalia. Hundreds of Mansfielders took advantage of the arrival of the show a day ahead of schedule to tramp around the grounds.

To boost "E" bond sales the circus has set aside a section of seats for each performance which

100,000 ARE HOMELESS IN RISING FLOOD

Smaller Streams Continue To Swell Rampaging Missouri and Mississippi.

MAUMEE WATERS FALL

Midwest Crop Experts See Millions of Dollars Damage To Fields.

(By Associated Press)

Spreading waters from the rampaging Mississippi and Missouri rivers brought added concern to southern Illinois and Missouri today as other smaller streams in mid-west states rose relentlessly, causing further widespread destruction in the flood-stricken zone.

As the two big rivers joined early today some 10 miles northwest of the normal confluence near Alton, Ill., the number of persons driven from their homes by the disastrous floods was close to 100,000—as estimated by Red Cross officials and other observers.

Hundreds of civilian recruits—including high school boys and girls in some towns—labored throughout the night in towns regarded as in imminent danger, aiding engineers and soldiers in the struggle to hold back the surging waters.

The Red Cross office at St. Louis said that in Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma, more than 80,000 were homeless, while in Indiana official and unofficial observers estimated 12,000 were forced to flee. The number left homeless in Kansas, the sixth state affected by the flood, was not calculated.

While thousands of farm lands were inundated in the six states and damage to crops was estimated at millions of dollars, there was a degree of optimism concerning the crop situation expressed by crop experts in Chicago.

They said the most serious aspect of the flood situation as it applied to the nation's food supply concerned corn, planting of which has been delayed by the floods. But, they said, it was considered possible that this loss of time would be made up by warm, sunny weather during the summer. They added that in the big crop area a late spring had delayed corn planting one or two weeks, before farm lands were inundated. They also said that the danger exists in the fact that autumn frosts may kill

GET TOGETHER

Tax Conferees About Ready To Recommend Pay-Go Plan.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A joint senate-house conference on taxation today appeared about ready to recommend a pay-as-you-go bill including cancellation of 50 to 100 per cent of 1942 or 1943 individual income taxes.

Despite predictions of a deadlock—and other predictions that congress might reject a conference agreement—leaders of the conferees expressed confidence that a pay-as-you-go bill can be framed.

The most likely compromise, members said, would be for cancellation of from 60 to 80 per cent of one year's taxes, together with institution of a 20 per cent pay-roll tax July 1.

Columbus Man Convicted of First Degree Murder.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A common pleas court jury early today convicted Louis Fields, 27, of first degree murder with recommendation of mercy in the Thanksgiving morning holdup-slaying of William Conkle, 42, railroad engineer. The verdict calls for life imprisonment.

Fields was the second man tried in the killing. Ervin Griffin, 19, indicted jointly with Fields, was convicted last week of first degree murder. A mandatory sentence of death in Ohio's electric chair was withheld pending a motion for a new trial.

Bomb Sardinia Dam; Attu Japs In Last Stand

Blockade Of Kiska Seen As Next Big U. S. Maneuver In Aleutians

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The navy reported today that operations on Attu island in the North Pacific are continuing with the latest reports indicating that the Japanese are making a last stand in defensive high ground on the island's northeastern extremity.

(The Vichy radio in a broadcast recorded in London said today "the Japanese have begun to evacuate Attu." This had no confirmation.)

The enemy, as of last Wednesday, held an area of about 15 or 20 square miles with a line opposite American advancing forces about five miles long.

Today's communique, however, gave no information on what had occurred on Attu yesterday and officers said frankly that all they could be sure of for the present was that operations were continuing.

They assumed the Japanese probably had been driven back somewhat farther in the meantime, although fog and cold might have slowed down the American movement.

American military experts said that with the fall of Attu, the big Japanese base at Kiska, 196 miles to the east, faced a complete blockade by U. S. ships and planes.

With Attu in American hands and American planes operating from the field which the Japanese had partly completed there, Kiska will be caught between two hostile bastions.

War of Nerves on In Steady Raids Over London And Berlin.

(By Associated Press)

American fliers were officially credited today with ringing up a spectacular toll of 113 enemy planes destroyed in "softening up" attacks on Italy and her island outposts yesterday, while swift U. S. fighter-bombers dropped explosives on a dam in northwest Sardinia.

The raid on the Sardinian water barrier further exploited a new line of attack inaugurated last Sunday when RAF bombers shattered Germany's huge Moehne and Eder dams in the Ruhr, spreading a vast trail of death and havoc among Hitler's war industries.

Meanwhile, a sleep-torturing "war of nerves" between London and Berlin, involving populations of 13,000,000, appeared under way today in a new phase of the great air struggle over Europe.

For the second successive night—the fifth time since May 13—speedy RAF Mosquito bombers jabbed at Berlin, while London underwent its fifth straight after-dark alarm.

No bombs fell on the British capital, however, and the German high command reported only "ineffective nuisance attacks" over the reich without mentioning the thrust at Berlin.

Other RAF bombers and fighters, carrying the Allied aerial offensive against the continent into its ninth night in a row, struck at Nazi war foundries, trains, barges, canal jetties and motor

MISSION: Success Hinted as Davies Gives Note to Stalin

(By United Press)

MOSCOW—The mission of Joseph E. Davies, who last night delivered a sealed letter from President Roosevelt to Premier Josef Stalin in an audience at the Kremlin, was believed today to have been highly successful.

All external evidence indicated Soviet favor of the mission, the nature of which still was cloaked in the secrecy Mr. Roosevelt threw over it in dispatching his special envoy to Moscow with a personal message for Stalin.

(Prime Minister Winston Churchill told congress Wednesday that he and Mr. Roosevelt hoped to meet Stalin, and if possible Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China, "at no distant date.")

Stalin significantly summoned Davies to the Kremlin a few hours after Davies conferred with Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov. Foreign diplomats usually wait several days after seeing Molotov before Stalin receives them.

Another potentially significant point was that Stalin, breaking his current practice of receiving diplomats in the presence of Molotov, waited until he was alone with Davies to accept the president's message.

Davies had a short chat with Stalin before taking the letter from his brief case. They had not seen each other in five years. Davies was the U. S. ambassador here until June, 1938.

Speculation as to what the president wrote brought no comment from either Stalin or Davies. It had been suggested in some quarters that the president may have invited Stalin to a conference on the war's conduct.

Neither was it known whether the note called for an answer. It was believed that both questions might go unanswered until after Davies returns to America to report to the chief executive on his visit.

(Mr. Roosevelt said two weeks ago that Davies would not know the contents of the note until after it had been read by Stalin.)

FINIS: Yamamoto, Who Planned Pearl Harbor Treachery, Killed

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The Tokyo radio announced today that Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, commander in chief of the combined Japanese fleet, who boasted he would dictate peace terms in the White House, was killed "on the very front lines of the south" while directing operations against Allied naval forces from an airplane.

The emotional Japanese broadcasts on the admiral's death, recorded by the Associated Press and the Federal Communications Commission, did not disclose exactly where Yamamoto met his death, but said it occurred in April while he was "engaged in combat with the enemy."

Presumably the "very front lines of the south" referred to the water north of Australia, in the New Guinea or Solomon islands area where there have been frequent naval encounters.

Yamamoto was possessed of a consuming hatred of the United States, acquired in his youth when his father told him of the "barbarians" who had come in their black ships, broken down the doors of Japan, trampled upon ancient customs, demanded indemnities. . . ."

His military training started at the age of six, but he later switched to the navy because he said he wanted to "return Commodore Perry's visit."

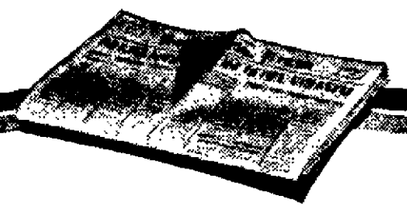
FULL INFORMATION IS THE PEOPLE'S INDISPENSABLE WEAPON



KEEPING FULLY INFORMED, getting all the news, is something that we in America have long been used to. But war has magnified its importance, made it far more vital than at any time in the past.

For this is a people's war . . . and full information is the people's indispensable weapon for Victory.

We have always turned to our newspapers as the most complete source of news. The war has made us more dependent on newspapers than ever before . . .

. . . for full reports of the day's events . . . for detailed news from the battlefronts and the homefronts, from Washington and other world centers, and from our own town.

. . . for full information on wartime regulations . . . on rationing and taxes, dimouts and blackouts, draft orders and air raid rules . . . on how to save, how to make things last longer, what to do to help win the war and hasten the coming of peace.

. . . for editorial interpretations and expert analysis of the important happenings, to give us a better understanding of what's going on today and what lies ahead.

. . . for the vital news that comes through the advertisements of manufacturing plants and retail stores, news of what industry is doing and planning, news of merchandise and services the stores are offering.

We depend on newspapers to be fully informed. Small wonder, then, that today, when being well posted is so important to all of us, newspapers are being read more eagerly, more thoroughly, and by more people than ever before. That's one reason why newspaper space is so powerful a medium for wartime advertisers.

Mansfield And New London Favored In District Meet

Sport Podge by REX HESS

There are few towns in this nation where pride in the achievements of its sport heroes runs as high as it does in New London, Ohio.

Pass the time of day with any New London resident, and the chances are that you will be talking sports before you can say "How are ya?"

And with the conversation once started, the typical New Londoner will tell you about the town's famous athletic sons until the cows come home. And unless you find a way of breaking off the conversation, the cows are apt to become very discouraged indeed, and wander off to the pasture fields again.

New London long has been justly proud of the service record of one of its adopted sons, Victor S. Malinovsky, who coached the high school's athletic teams from September 1939 until January 1941.

Vic gave up his coaching position to join the U. S. Marines, rose to the rank of captain, was wounded in battle, and is now recuperating in California.

And if New London was proud before, how do you suppose the citizens feel now with the word that Captain Vic has been cited for gallant conduct in action?

The citation, issued by Rear Admiral T. S. Wilkinson, deputy commander in the South Pacific area, reads:

"For meritorious conduct in action against the enemy in the British Solomon Islands on August 7, 1942. During the Marine attack on Gavutu Harbor, the machine gun and mortar unit which Lieutenant Malinovsky commanded was subjected to heavy, continuous Japanese fire.

"With complete disregard for his own safety, he moved among his gun crew, inspiring his men to greater efforts. His skill in directing the fire of his weapons resulted in the destruction of at least one enemy machine gun and two trucks loaded with enemy troops, and was a material factor in neutralizing enemy fire.

"His courageous conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

The citation was delivered to Captain Malinovsky recently at the United States Naval hospital on Mare Island, Calif., where he has undergone three operations for injuries to his neck, suffered in action.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Malinovsky of Avon, O., report that Vic's body still remains in a cast, but that he has been able to leave the hospital and is now at home with his wife at 234 Cassady street, Vallejo, Calif.

New Londoners have no difficulty picturing the spirit with which Vic once inspired his high school football teams, transplanted to that machine gun nest at Gavutu Harbor.

Phillies Tramping On Rivals

Blank Cubs In Both Ends Of Double Bill.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(AP Sports Writer)

THE Philadelphia Phillies not only are standing on their own feet these days, they are tramping on the toes of a lot of other clubs in the National league.

Here is what they did yesterday:

1. Shut out the Chicago Cubs in both ends of a doubleheader 8-0 and 2-0, allowing the Bruins just four hits in each game.

2. Made the Cubs' plight so disturbing that Philip K. Wrigley, their multi-millionaire owner, personally announced settlement of the club's contract squabble with Lou Novikoff.

3. Rejected the Brooklyn Dodgers' offer of two players for Second Baseman Danny Murtaugh, thus causing the Dodgers to sell them Pitcher Newt Kimball and send Alex Kampouris to Washington for cash in order to get under the 25-player limit.

4. Threatened the third-place standing of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

The twin triumphs over the Cubs were achieved on superlative pitching by Charley Fuchs and Lefty Al Gerheauser, a pair of rookies.

This extended the Cubs' losing streak to nine games, miring them deep in the cellar.

The Phillies' winning string was stretched to five games and they moved within half a game of the Cardinals, who were beaten 5-2 at Brooklyn.

This made the four-game Brooklyn-St. Louis series a standoff between the Cardinals and Frank (Rube) Melton, who accounted for both the Dodgers' victories. The former Philly ace stopped the Redbirds 1-0 Monday and then came back on two days rest yesterday to pitch a seven-hitter.

In the American league (yes, there still is an American league) Boston and Cleveland managed to get in a doubleheader for the only action the circuit has had since Sunday. Boston bagged both games 2-1 in ten innings and 7-4 to bump the Indians into third place behind the Yankees and Senators, who were idle.

PROVIDENTS BOOK PRACTICE GAME

Tentatively scheduled to open their softball season here May 29 against Youngstown, Provident Loan Girls have booked a practice tilt Sunday afternoon against a boys' team at North Lake park.

With a number of new players in the lineup, the Providents have been practicing regularly, and expect to display a good brand of ball again this season.

Tribe Drops Double Header

Knocked Out of Second Place By Boston Hose.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians squirmed uncomfortably in third place today after a double defeat by the cellar-dwelling Boston Red Sox.

The Tribe's loss of the runner-up position occurred on the eve of an invasion by the league-leading New York Yankees. The Yankee series presents the prospect of a further drop down the ladder as only a game and a half separates the Redskins from the fifth-place Detroit Tigers.

Jim Bagby, ace of the Indian mound staff, will seek his fifth victory in the series opener at the lakefront Stadium tonight. Hank Borowy is the probable Yankee starter.

The Red Sox eked out a 10-inning 2 to 1 victory in the opener of yesterday's twin bill at League park and annexed the nightcap 7-4.

In the latter contest Manager Lou Boudreau exhibited the length if not the strength of his staff by sending six hurlers to the mound. Pete Center didn't last the first inning and his successors included Vern Kennedy, Joe Heving, Ray Poat, Al Milnar and Mike Naymick.

Jack Salveson started the first game for the Indians but retired with a lame shoulder after pitching five innings and allowing five hits and one run. Allie Reynolds was charged with the defeat although he allowed only two singles in the remaining five heats. Johnny Peacock broke the 1 to 1 deadlock in the 10th when he singled John Lazor home.

BILL LOOKS GLUM

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bill McKechnie of the Reds looked forward with no pleasure today to four games in three days with the Brooklyn Bums—weather permitting—while others on the Cincinnati higher-ups toured Philadelphia looking for an outfielder.

Why McKechnie should look so glum, except on general principals, was not clear to Red camp-followers hereabouts. They—not knowing the inner workings of the McKechnie mind—were inclined to figure the Reds should be in pretty good shape for the forthcoming bouts, since recent days have been no great strain on the Cincinnati pitching staff. There was no work yesterday against the Giants, for instance.

* * *

Bucky Walters, with two-and two to his credit thus far, is down to open against the Dodgers today. Ray Starr will take a turn on Saturday, while Johnny Vander Meer and Elmer Riddle will appear in the double-header Sunday, according to present plans.

Parks Softball League All Set

Blue Goose has taken the place of Liberty Park in the Mansfield public parks softball league, Physical Director John Fike of the Y. M. C. A. announced today, and the league is now ready to get under way with its schedule June 7 with six teams.

Other teams entered in the league are Johns, John Todd, Prospect, Maple Lake and North Lake.

The schedule is now being drawn up for two rounds of play.

Golf League Opens Tuesday

News-Journal Circuit Players Set To Go.

The News-Journal golf league, combining the "A" and "B" leagues of former seasons, is all set for opening matches of the season next Tuesday at Possum Run.

Schedule for the first day of play: Gorman-Rupp vs. Richland Printing; Long Bar vs. Barnes & Schmid; Orr Typewriter vs. Tucker Furniture; Globe Steel vs. Smoke House.

Combining the two leagues was found to be the only possible means of survival of organized golf under News-Journal sponsorship when a check-up of last year's players in the two circuits showed only enough left in the city for eight teams, with a few available for substitute duty.

The team lineups as finally decided upon are:

Gorman-Rupp — Boyd Crail, Oscar Frantz, Phil Schwaner, and Pat Crumm.

Richland Printing — Pete Linster, Paul Jesson, Harry Fay, and Frank DeWoody.

Long Bar — Grant Hanawalt, Frank Vild, Bill Boyle and Maurice Byrnes.

Barnes & Schmid—Joe Mayer, Matz Fischer, Fay Strome and A. Riffle.

Orr Typewriter — Carl Kushin, Bill Gibson, Frank Lay, and Rev. G. E. Swoyer.

Tucker Furniture — Al Kushin, Adam Brandt, George Hall and Fred Lewis.

Globe Steel — Carl Wiseman, Noel Morgan, Clarence Walters and Carl Rupp.

Smoke House — Chuck Snyder, Sid Mathias, Harry Schlegel, and Jimmy Morgan.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — George Washington U. may cancel its 1943 football schedule, which would leave Washington depending on Maryland for its college football next fall. . . . That shouldn't be very bad news for George Preston Marshall and his Redskins. . . . Local baseball rumors are that the Yanks are looking covetously at Detroit's Ned Harris.

SERVICE DEPT.

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Armstrong, who led the first attack by American heavy bombers over Europe last summer and later led his squadron in the first American bomber attack upon Germany, was a star tackle at Wake Forest college in the early 1920's and played pro baseball as a Detroit Tigers' farmhand. . . . From North Africa, Lieut. Tom Farrell, former Cornell football and track man, sends word: "A guy who speaks as little French as I do is lost here, but I am fast becoming master of the sign language."

FUTURE BOOK.

Charley Parker, the 16-year-old San Antonio, Tex., high school sprinter who ran the 100 in 9.5 and the 220 in 20.6 at the state high school meet, may come east to face big time competition this summer. . . . Another kid who might be worth "importing" is Don Clayton of Fayetteville, N. C., who won nine firsts and a second place in a dual meet with Durham high school and who took only four state titles because they wouldn't let him enter any more events. He's also a good football and basketball player but he's due to join the army air force Aug. 30.

UP AND COMING.

Garland Braxton, who pitched for the Braves in 1921, still is southpawing 'em up for the Norfolk Piedmont league club. . . . The other day he tossed a seven-hitter at the Lynchburg Cardinals and Scribe Tom Fergusson reports that after the game a fan was heard to remark: "That fella Braxton is sure a promising player. Bet he could play major league ball right now."

Standings In Race Shuffled

Idle Indianapolis Clings To Top Spot.

A program of night doubleheaders brought a reshuffling of positions in the tight American association baseball league's pennant race today.

The Indianapolis Indians, their scheduled twin bill with Milwaukee postponed, held to the top spot, but the Kansas City Blues jumped from sixth to the second-place roost formerly held by the Columbus Red Birds.

The Birds divided victories with last place St. Paul and dropped into a tie for third with Milwaukee. Minneapolis' Millers and Toledo Mud Hens also broke even, leaving the Millers in fifth place and the Mud Hens in sixth.

The race is so tight, however, that the Mud Hens are only one game behind the runner-up Blues.

Only Five Schools Entered In Class 'A'

Fremont To Give Tygers Battle; 'B' Division Has 18 Entries.

MANSFIELD high school Tygers tomorrow go after their third straight district track championship and are favored to win the title as hosts to the district meet at Stadium field.

Fremont's Little Giants, who copped the crown in 1940, are expected to give the Tygers their main competition in the small field of five Class "A" schools entered in the meet, which also includes Bucyrus, Tiffin Columbian and Port Clinton.

Small entry lists from the last three named schools indicate they are sending only a few star performers who have hopes of advancing to the state meet, seeking individual honors.

These few stars could very well upset the championship hopes of Mansfield or Fremont if their district points are scored in the proper places.

While the Class "A" meet is regarded as strictly a contest between the Tygers and Little Giants, there will be a real championship race in Class "B" with 18 schools entered.

New London, winner of the Clearview Relays, and the Class "B" championship in the Ohio Wesleyan Relays, will be favored to win in this division.

Tyger track Coach Harry Mehock, who is managing the meet, said today it may not be necessary to run preliminaries in the "A" division, but that qualifiers will be staged tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the "B" division in both hurdles, the dashes, and field events.

Each school is limited to two contestants in each individual event, and of course only one team in the relays. Mehock has named five contestants in each of the relays, to take care of any last minute substituting that may be necessary. Only four will run, of course.

The Mansfield entries in the meet are:

100 yard dash—Schmidt and Herrick.

220 yard dash—Hamman and Schmidt.

440—Herrick and Nameth.

880—Beckel and Erich.

Mile—Smith and Humphreys.

880 Relay—Schmidt, Zivkoff, McBride, Menke, Hamman.

Mile Relay—Herrick, Nameth, Menke, Given, Black.

Hurdles—Lewis and Wallington.

Pole vault—McBride, Weaver, Wilging.

Broad jump—Lewis and Herrick.

High jump—Eichler and Crownover.

Shot put—Komjenovich and Zeller.

Discus—Miller and Zeller.

With his usual genius for organization, Mehock has arranged an official setup similar to the ones which made the Mansfield Relays famous in years past.

Finals in both divisions of the meet are scheduled to start at 2 p. m. tomorrow, and "I expect to have the meet completed by 3:30," Mehock declares.

Coach George Donges of Ashland college has been named official starter for the meet, Bill Keefe clerk of course, Herb Smith official scorer, and Lemoyne Derr announcer.

Other officials will be:

Judges—Zane Wilson, Roscoe McGinty, Don Frampton, Frank Balbaugh, John Jundt and R. A. McBride.

Timers—Ikey Fetter, V. H. Oberlander, Lyle Baumgartner, Vern Hoffman, and Walter Willis.

Judges on the curves—Glenn Robinson and Wendell Blauser.

Field event judges—Bud Houston, pole vault; Lee Smaltz, high jump; Guy Van Nostrand, shot put and discus; and Chuck Condon, broad jump.

Richland county will have three schools entered in the Class "B" division to the meet: Ontario, Lexington and Madison. The first two have gone through a fairly complete schedule in preparation for the meet, and are expected to be among the point scorers.

The complete list of "B" schools: Berlin Heights, Ontario, Huron, Harpster, Madison, New London, Sulphur Springs, Sycamore, Oak Harbor Eden Township, Clyde, Lexington, Milan, Monroeville, Norwalk St. Paul, Holmes-Liberty, Scipio-Republic, and Marseilles.

Battle for Boxing Title

Montgomery Swings at Beau Jack's Crown.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bouncing Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery collide tonight for the World lightweight championship, and trying to pick the winner is like Aunt Emma making up her mind between the blue hat with the bouquet of bananas or the red one with the bird nest.

The Beau is a 5 to 11 choice among the better 49th street betting shoppers in this 15-round fuss in Madison Square Garden. But when you add everything up, you're still no closer to the answer.

On recent form, the Jumping Jack, who was handed this New York version of the lightweight championship last December after Sammy Angott retired permanently for a couple of months, figures to make his first "defense" a happy celebration. He not only has cleaned up among the lightweights, but he moved in among the welters and walloped Fritzie Zivic and Henry Armstrong. But Bobcat Bob has had his artillery aimed at a lightweight title shot for a long time now, after five non-title tussles with 135-pound bosses and he's confident he'll hit the bulls-eye in this battle between two negro swatters.

From all indications, 19,000 or 20,000 citizens are going to attend the scrap.

Price Administration Admittedly 'Cracking at Seams'

OFFICIAL SAYS THAT IT WILL NOT COLLAPSE

Hunt For Hard-Boiled General Manager Fails, Agency Gets Much Criticism.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — A well-informed official admitted today that the Office of Price Administration is "cracking at the seams," but emphasized that the administration could not and would not let it collapse.

This official pointed out that the price and rationing program has gone too far now to risk complete chaos by a thorough overhauling of policies and personnel.

OPA policies are being denounced by congress, housewives, labor and industry. "Giddy," "Feeble," "Fumbling" are some of the epithets used to describe them.

OPA's search for a hard-boiled "general manager" has failed. There is general agreement that such a man is needed to supplement Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown who is regarded by many officials in and out of OPA as too mild—a man desirous to please everyone.

Brown has been looking for a "general manager" who is capable of saying "no" to all factions, and then stick to his decisions. It was learned, however, that the last on a list of possible candidates for such a job had turned it down.

Brown is being attacked by all groups affected by OPA policies—for doing both too much and too little. Sen. Henrik Shipstead, R., Minn., said Brown's promised "roll back" of prices was a "swindle" inasmuch as it actually was a "roll up." He charged that the new community-wide dollars-and-cents ceiling prices in Washington jumped prices "by something like 20 per cent over the former retail price level."

"Take porterhouse and sirloin steak and roast," Shipstead told the senate. "In Washington, D. C., the OPA's 'ceiling' price was jumped from the former price top of 50 to 59 cents a pound up to 66 cents for choice steak at chain stores and 70 cents at independent stores. The advertised roll-back was really a rollup of 10 to 15 cents a pound."

Labor and consumers organizations complain that Brown has not carried out President Roosevelt's "hold-the-line" order of April 8 to place ceilings on all important cost-of-living items and to roll back prices that have soared above reasonable levels. Delegates from the New York City consumer council conferred with Acting OPA Administrator J. K. Galbraith yesterday and extracted from him a promise to place dollars and cents prices on "most-consumed" fresh vegetables and fruits early next month. The delegates reported the result of their conference at a press conference in the office of Sen. Robert F. Watner, D., N. Y.

Brown is being criticized on another front for yielding to pressure from the canning industry and scrapping the plan to grade label the 1943 pack of fruits, juices and canned vegetables.

SCHOLARSHIP TO OBERLIN GAINED

Marjorie McClure of Senior High Receives Award.

A Mansfield high school senior, Marjorie McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClure, 267 Vennum avenue, has been awarded a scholarship to Oberlin college, a letter from W. H. Seaman, director of admission at the college, to Principal Glenn G. Rohleder announced today.

Seaman said the honor went to Miss McClure on the basis of her high score in the college scholarship test and recommendations from teachers at senior high.

Miss McClure was among more than 200 pupils throughout the state who took the test.

5,681 RICHLAND MEN NOW SERVE IN U. S. FORCES

300 More Due To Go In June, Bringing Total To Thrice World War I Number.

Mansfield and Richland county have sent 5,681 men into all branches of the armed forces in this war and there were indications today that the total will climb beyond the 6,000-mark by mid-summer.

The county's contribution of manpower so far in the second World war nearly triples that of the war in 1917-18 when approximately 2,000 Richland countians were in military service.

Released today by state selective service headquarters, the county's total number of men serving in this war includes inductees, enlistments, and men called to duty in the army, navy, coast guard and marines. Military restrictions do not permit listing the number in each branch of the service.

The county's three selective service boards have been asked to send close to 300 men to induction centers in June, slightly more than the May total. About half of the June inductees will be 18-year-old high school graduates whose induction was delayed to permit them to finish school, board clerks said.

Completing the county's June quota will be married men without children. All three boards have been inducting childless married men for several months, but they have not been authorized so far to call up men with children.

The 5,681 Richland countians in the armed forces are about equally divided among the three boards at approximately 1,900 each. Each board receives credit for the men who enlisted from its area in the city and county.

FACES CHARGE

Man Who Fired at Self and Missed Held By Police.

A Mansfield man who allegedly fired five shots from a revolver Monday night in what police described as a suicide attempt was held today on a charge of discharging firearms in the city. All of the shots missed.

After investigating the shooting for three days, police filed the charge today against Louis Waddell, 27, who came to Mansfield three months ago from Steubenville to make his home with relatives.

Waddell was found Monday night back of his home after a neighbor told police he had heard several shots.

Detective Howard Schuck said Waddell admitted firing the shots because he was despondent after being told to leave the relative's home.

Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff today asked city department heads to submit estimates of their 1944 operating fund needs made to him by next Monday so council can set up the city's budget request for the year.

The service director said the estimates will go before city council for approval at the July meeting.

Subdivisions' requests for 1944 funds must be in the hands of County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe by July 20 so the county budget commission can act on them in August.

ASKS DATA ON 'ASSESSMENTS'

Resolution Says Ferguson Collects Thousands From Employes.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— A resolution introduced in the house of representatives would request Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson to account for "monthly political assessments" alleged to "amount to many thousands of dollars" in the past two years.

Ferguson was expected to reply to the charge on his return to the capitol today or tomorrow.

Rep. John R. Wood, R., Montgomery, introduced the resolution yesterday which asserted "it is generally known over Ohio that the auditor of state has levied a monthly political assessment on his employes mostly in classified civil service positions in all these years (since his election in 1940)" although he had not campaigned for re-election.

Such assessments in these years are reported to amount to many thousands of dollars in the aggregate," the resolution said.

Pointing out that state law prohibits soliciting assessments from civil service employes by any candidate for office, the resolution would have Ferguson submit a sworn statement of contributions received, reporting where the funds have been deposited, how much each employe contributed, and how it was distributed to his party committee or "retained by him personally."

The resolution also asked how the contributions had been reported in federal income returns. If adopted, copies of the resolutions would be sent to President Roosevelt, federal income tax authorities and the state civil service commission.

FOOD PARLEY SHUNS CHARITY SYSTEM, REPORT

British Delegate Says World Doesn't Want U. S. To Play Santa Claus.

(By United Press)

HOT SPRINGS, Va.—Delegates to the International Food conference today rejected the theory that they were conjuring up a permanent system of international charity.

They described as erroneous ideas that the United States would be called upon to feed the world at the expense of its own people.

Richard K. Law, chairman of the British delegation keynoted that theme with the statement that the United States would provide some things in the post-war world, but that no one at this international conference is asking for charity.

"We shall not have solved the problem of getting the food that is produced to the people who need it if we conjure up pictures of a permanent system of international charity," Law said.

"Such a system, I am sure, would not be tolerated in the long run by free peoples whether they were the givers or the receivers. What we must achieve is an economic system in which it will be possible for all men and all nations to earn a steady livelihood and so acquire the food stuffs and other commodities which are essential to their well-being."

Undersecretary of Agriculture Paul Appleby, acting chairman of the American delegation, told reporters that there necessarily would be a period after the war when outright relief would be necessary. But that would only be to help devastated areas reach the point where they could get their own economy into operation.

Post war relief is not on the agenda of this conference. Herbert H. Lehman's office of foreign relief and rehabilitation, soon expected to become part of a United Nation's relief organization, probably will institute an international conference of its own on that subject.

But the long range food problem is the concern of the Hot Springs conferees. They are approaching the way for expanded consumption; not with any thought of a permanent "Santa Claus" system.

9 MORE LOADS

City Trucks Finish Annual Clean-up Collection.

Nine more truckloads of rubbish were collected Thursday in Mansfield in the final round of the city's annual clean-up drive, bringing total collections to 62 truckloads.

The major clean-up drive was conducted Wednesday with yesterday's collections finishing the job, according to C. H. Hebel, city street superintendent, who was in charge of the campaign.

The campaign produced approximately the same amount of trash as other drives in recent years despite predictions that salvage campaigns during the past winter would reduce the collections.

The last week for you to buy these FHA lots at these low prices! Do you know what it means to own an FHA approved Title 6 lot? It means your lot makes the down payment on your home; it means while the owner of other lots is having his lot approved, you build and occupy your own home. No rent paid . . . no delay . . . no expense . . . no embarrassment. Buy now! Small down payment will hold it, your lot will double in value as the first payment on your home.

Borrow at Household without fuss or bother on your salary, furniture or car—without endorsers. Pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Example: a $50 loan repaid in 6 monthly instalments of $9.24 each costs $5.44, but if repaid in one month costs only $1.50. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 3% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100 but not exceeding $300, and 1½% per month on any remainder.

The last week for you to buy these FHA lots at these low prices! Do you know what it means to own an FHA approved Title 6 lot? It means your lot makes the down payment on your home; it means while the owner of other lots is having his lot approved, you build and occupy your own home. No rent paid . . . no delay . . . no expense . . . no embarrassment. Buy now! Small down payment will hold it; your lot will double in value as the first payment on your home.

Borrow at Household without fuss or bother on your salary, furniture or car—without endorsers. Pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Example: a $50 loan repaid in 6 monthly instalments of $9.24 each costs $5.44, but if repaid in one month costs only $1.50. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 3% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100 but not exceeding $300, and ½% per month on any remainder.

ER TRENDS PREVAILING IN STOCK MARKET

Week's Spending In Nation Exceeds Year Ago By 7 to 14 Per Cent.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Irregularly lower trends prevailed in today's early stock market proceedings.

Off fractionally at a moderately active opening were Radio Corporation, American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennicott, U. S. Steel, Pennsylvania, American Water Works, Goodrich, Bethlehem and Chesapeake & Ohio. Up a shade were Standard Oil of California, and United Fruit.

Boardrooms saw a constructive indicator in the Dun & Bradstreet survey estimating this weeks retail spending throughout the nation, notwithstanding poor weather conditions, exceeded the comparable period a year ago by 7 to 14 per cent. Most merchants, the review added, were stressing conservation because of scarcities in many lines.

CHICAGO —(AP)— Wheat scored small gains at the opening today. Closing out of positions in the May contract, in which trading ends today, gave the market strength. Oats and rye declined minor fractions.

Wheat started unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $1.45½, July $1.43-$1.43⅛, and corn was unchanged, May $1.05.

U. S. FLIERS BAG 113 PLANES IN ITALIAN RAIDS

Drop Explosives on Mammoth Dam In Sardinia; Berlin Attacked Again.

transport in occupied France and Germany and laid mines in enemy waters.

Among the targets announced by the British air ministry were the German U-boat base at Bremen and the munitions center of Essen, home of the giant Krupp works.

On the invasion-jittery southern flank of Hitler's Europe, U. S. Flying Fotresses delivered a fiery assault on the Italian airdrome at Grosseto, 90 miles north of Rome, and other Allied planes attacked stepping-stone islands in the Mediterranean including Sardinia and Pantelleria.

Allied headquarters in North Africa announced that American fighters and bombers alone destroyed 113 Axis planes yesterday in widespread sweeps marking "one of the greatest victory days in the history of the strategic air force."

With a loss of one Allied plane, 91 enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and 22 in furious sky fighting. Seven of the victims were huge German Merseburg-323 transports, each capable of carrying 120 persons.

Wants Another Crack at Nazis

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(INS)—One American Flying Fortress gunner was eager for further aerial action today after bagging his first Nazi in 42 missions.

He was First Lieut. Stanley E Hall of Portsmouth, Va., whose big bomber engaged yesterday in a 20-minute dogfight with enemy planes between the Sicilian coast and the Egadi islands after heavily bombing the Milo airdrome on Trapani.

"Now that I've tasted blood, I'm ready for more," he said today. "He was my first Hun in 42 missions. The one I got flew in head-on from above. He acted a little green and it took only one short burst to finish him off."

The Flying Fortresses escaped without loss, which led Second Lieut. Adolph R. Rimpau of Anaheim, Calif., to state simply, "I think we were lucky." He stressed, however, that the show was not an easy one as Axis fighters did their best to get at the American bombing formations.

Russians Sink Nazi Troop Barges

MOSCOW—(AP)—The movement of German self-propelled barges across the Black sea and attempts of a Nazi infantry force to fight its way through the Russian attack are northeast of Novorossisk have been smashed by Soviet artillery and planes, reports from the front said today.

The Soviet midnight communique said ships of the Red fleet and planes patrolling the Black sea sank six of the enemy barges, filled with troops, near Kerch.

There was no immediate indication whether the boats were attempting to bring more reinforcements to the Axis troops now compressed into four districts in the Taman peninsula, or whether this marked the beginning of an Axis attempt at an evacuation.

Four German infantry regiments attempted to storm the Red lines northwest of Novorossisk after laying down a heavy barrage, but were met with volleys of Soviet gunfire, the midnight war bulletin said, and thrown back with heavy losses.

SEES RATIONING AS MAJOR ISSUE

GOP Chairman Certain FDR Will Be Candidate Again.

PHILADELPHIA — (U.P.) — Republican National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler predicts that the government's handling of the rationing program will be a major issue in the 1934 presidential campaign.

On a visit to Philadelphia yesterday Spangler said there was "no doubt President Roosevelt was a candidate for a fourth term, because the inner bunch of the New Deal crowd is promoting his candidacy."

Spangler said "the bungling in the administration of the rationing program will have a tremendous effect" on the 1944 election.

9 WOUNDED IN GANG SHOOTING

Bystanders Hit By Shots From Stolen Auto.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—A shooting affray in which nine innocent bystanders were wounded by shotgun slugs was disclosed today to have resulted from a feud between two street corner gangs of Negro youths.

Ivy Robinson, 16, owner of the double-barreled shotgun, told police that he and other members of the Hiram Athletic club had resolved last night to get even with Lion Athletic club.

Police said an automobile, stolen from a downtown parking lot, raced past the corner twice and one shot was fired each time. Arthur Beard, 44, received about 40 lead pellets in his legs and was reported in serious condition today. Eight others were wounded.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—(INS)—A naval flight board today investigated a plane crash four miles southeast of Santa Ana in which two navy airmen were killed.

Victims, the 11th Naval District said, were: Lieut. (JG) Thomas Carl Weinert of Cleveland O., and Lieut. (JG) Joseph Hunter Heatwole of Watsonville, Cal.

TOKYO REPORTS YAMAMOTO DEAD

Admiral Who Planned Pearl Harbor Treachery Said To Have Died In Action.

the Tokyo radio after Pearl Harbor quoted him as writing: "Any time war breaks out between Japan and the United States, I shall not be content merely to capture Guam and the Philippines and occupy Hawaii and San Francisco. I am looking forward to dictating peace to the United States in the White House at Washington." Yamamoto spoke English fluently.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here is President Roosevelt's comment, which he authorized for direct quotation, on the reported death of Japanese Admiral Yamamoto:

"Gosh!"

Yamamoto planned the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor, which set off the Pacific war, and Japanese Navy Minister Shigetaro Shimada paid tribute to this trickery today as an operation "which amazed the world."

The Tokyo broadcasts said Emperor Hirohito had bestowed posthumously on Yamamoto the rank of fleet admiral and had decreed a state funeral for him.

As spokesman for the Tokyo naval command he torpedoed the London naval conference of 1934, smashing the whole structure of naval limitations and ending the building truce that gave the Pacific ocean two decades of peace.

A terse communique issued by Japanese imperial headquarters said Admiral Mineichi Koga had been named Yamamoto's successor and "already was in command." Koga formerly was commander of the Japanese fleet in Chinese waters.

LEWIS AIMING AT AFL RULE

Observers Expect Retirement of Green If Miners Come Back Into Fold.

Green, competent observers of labors politics predicted today.

Two collateral effects also were foreseen:

A blow to the aspirations of Secretary-treasurer George Meany to attain the AFL presidency, and the possible election of Lewis himself to that office.

Lewis is not heading back to the AFL to be a second-stringer, labor circles agree. He is expected to be out front from the very beginning. He has some scores to settle with Green. More than any other individual, he helped Green into the AFL presidency. Green was a miner. But when Lewis organized the CIO, Green stood with the Federation for the suspension of the miners and the other unions allied with them in the new organizing venture.

Lewis' only way to retaliate then was to get Green expelled from the United Mine Workers, which he did promptly. This left Green in an embarrassing position, until the musicians' union came along with an honorary membership for him. Since then, he and Lewis have exchanged some harsh words.

Lewis forgets like an elephant. His time may come in October, when the annual Federation convention an election takes place. If Green retires it will be done gracefully, perhaps on a pension. Few AFL controversies are fought on the open convention floor.

Lewis' return is fraught with political implications. Many believe he and his principal ally, William L. Hutcheson, the Carpenters' president, have their eyes on the 1944 presidential campaign. It is an accepted fact that they will be in the Republican camp. Success there would restore Lewis to the White House guest list, a privilege he misses.

Green, at a press conference yesterday, declined to make any predictions about the executive council's actions on the miners' application for a charter. "It all depends," he said, "on how they work out these jurisdictional differences."

Those who know Lewis, however, say it is doubtful that he would have made any application in writing if its acceptance had not been assured in advance.

Green said it was possible the AFL Progressive Miners' union could retain its identity even if the UMW is readmitted. It would be contrary to general policy to have two unions in the Federation with the same industrial jurisdiction but Green said the council might find it satisfactory to recognize both unions with the understanding that the Progressives would be geographically restricted to their present field in Illinois and western Kentucky.

$10,600 FOR NURSERIES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt has approved expenditure of $10,575 for two nurseries and two centers for 70 children each at Oxford, O., the federal works agency announced.

12 Army Fliers Die In Crash Into Gas Tank

In full flight, a four-motored army bomber crashed into the world's largest illuminating gas storage tank in Chicago, igniting the 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas and killing all 12 army flyers aboard. The plane, based at Tarrant Field, Fort Worth, Tex., was on a routine training flight. The bomber struck the upper part of the 500-foot structure, slid over the rim and inside as the illuminating gas flashed into fire.

20,000 WALK OFF WAR JOBS

Three Chrysler Plants Closed; 85,000 Workers Faced With Idleness.

order, Leo Lamotte, UAW Chrysler director, ordered the men to return to their job. "I will have nothing to do with the grievances of these workers until they go back to work," Lamotte said.

The walkout began at the corporation's Jefferson - Kercheval plant and soon spread to the Dodge main plant and Dodge Lynch Road plant, shutting these down completely. In addition, several thousands workers at the Dodge truck plant were made idle by a lack of materials.

The company spokesman said the Jefferson-Kercheval plant fabricates parts for every weapon made by Chrysler and warned its continued shutdown would mean eventual idleness for all Chrysler employes. Chrysler has nine plants in Detroit.

Reports on causes of the strikes varied, but union leaders agreed "the slowness of the War Labor Board machinery" was a serious factor. Thomas placed the responsibility "completely upon the management involved."

Pennsylvania Coal Strikes Taper Off

PITTSBURGH — (U.P.) — Strikes tapered off in the western Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields today as miners responded to appeals of government and United Mine Workers officials, and union leaders predicted that operations will be back to normal by Monday.

The back-to-work move began late yesterday when workers at three mines employing more than 1,100 men returned to their jobs, and strikers at four other pits employing another 1,100 men, voted to go back to work today.

Workers at six other struck mines employing 3,100, called special meetings for today to decide on a course of action. It was believed likely that the men will vote to return to work.

Cars Arrive, Mines Resume Operation

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—(U.P.)—Coal production resumed today in a portion of the 26 mines in northern West Virginia whose 4,000 miners remained idle yesterday because of an unexpected railroad car shortage.

Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railway, which serves coal fields in the northern area, said 1130 empty cars had arrived today—enough to put about 15 mines back into operation.

1,400 More Ohio Miners Quit Work

BELLAIRE — (AP) — Fourteen hundred miners in two more coal mines refused today to work without a new contract as meetings, requested by union leaders in an effort to renew operations, failed to materialize.

The latest stoppages were in the Powhatan mine of the Powhatan Mining company, employing 1,030, and in the Florence mine of the Y. & O. company, said William Kennedy, board member of District 6, United Mine Workers.

Yesterday 625 men at Willow Grove and 550 at Dunglen laid down their tools.

Kennedy, urging the miners to return to work, last night asked presidents of the UMW locals at Willow Grove and Dunglen and their mine committees to arrange a meeting to consider a renewal of work, but today no meeting had been called.

The mines have been operating under federal control pending settlement of the bituminous wage contract dispute. Company officials said about 1,000 men at Piney Fork and Georgetown mines continued work.

have been turned over to persons who purchased bonds between May 3 and 21. Paul M. Eliot, chairman of the Richland county war bond committee, said today that 309 of the 384 circus tickets had been claimed by bond holders. The free ticket offer netted $24,825 for the May county war bond sales, Eliot said.

Nearly 200 acts will be presented in the two performances. Among the headlined stars are the Hanneford family of bareback riding marvels with "Poodles" the riding comedians; the Antelaks, high-perch performers; Seven Flying Thrillers, a sensational flying return display with Eileen Harold, only girl to accomplish a two and a half somersault to a catch in mid-air while blindfolded; Jean Allen, the daring rider of rearing and high-jumping horses; and the Latinos tight-wire stars.

gress report on his conferences with the prime minister, the president replied that so far most of the work has been done by the combined chiefs of staffs — the top military, naval and air advisers who flank the two consultants.

Tentative recommendations are expected to be made at a meeting tonight, he said, and these will be considered by the president and prime minister over the week-end. They will take them up next week, he said, and the kinks will be ironed out and a final decision made on them.

Speaking of the maritime program, Mr. Roosevelt said ship construction was going ahead exceedingly well, with the building exceeding sinkings and total output well ahead of what anyone expected a year ago.

He spoke of a process now underway of graduating slowly from Liberty ships to faster and better Victory ships, which he said would be used for commerce after the war.

Recalling that on maritime day last year the principal honors were reserved for workers in the shipyards, Mr. Roosevelt said special tribute should be given this year to seamen "who by their courage and fortitude have won the everlasting gratitude of the people of the United Nations, the men on the battlefront and their fellow Americans on the home front."

In his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt reiterated the Allies' unconditional surrender stand when asked whether any consideration was being given to the political future of Italy. He did not elaborate on that point.

AT LONG LAST, THERE'S CAUSE FOR R-30 DELAY

would the project be today if there had been 30 days of real effort during the good days of last fall, summer and before that. Work on the project was started Aug. 7, 1941.

In his conversation with the News-Journal yesterday, Grimes took opportunity to clear up a misunderstanding on the project.

The Lombardo Bros., he said, have not been granted an extension on the project. They have requested the extension but the state department does not act on such requests until after the project is completed.

If the extension is held to be unjustified, what does the state do then?

The "penalty" appears to be rather trivial in comparison to the size of the project and the size of the delays permitted to go on while the extension request is pending. Here's what it costs the contractor:

If the highway department rules the extension is not justified, then the contractor is required to pay all costs of engineering and inspection by state employes beyond the expiration date of the contract.

to buy new parking meters before they were needed and at a time when war-time regulations prevented their purchase even if there should be a need for them.

Also opposing passage of the measure were Councilmen Michael Mihalick, Democratic member from the Fourth ward, and Russell Porch, First ward Republican.

The ordinance would establish an $8,000 fund immediately and $3,000 annually until the reserve reaches $20,000.

Council can pass the bill over the mayor's veto by giving it a two-thirds vote of the nine members. It can be re-considered by council after a 10-day period has elapsed.

LAUNCH DRIVE

Retailers Will Help Stave Off Clothes Rationing.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A. D. Whiteside, chief of WPB's office of civilian requirements, has committed himself to heading off clothing rationing, a war production board spokesman said today, and has won the agreement of influential retailers to a don't-buy-more-than-you-need campaign.

A sweeping program of allocation of textile equipment and manpower—to get the maximum output in fabrics and clothes from existing facilities—will be undertaken, the spokesman said.

HUSBAND HELD

DENVER—(U.P.)—Howard Potts, 40, a warehouse employe, was held for questioning today after police found the body of his wife, who had been missing almost two months, buried in a shallow grave in the basement of their home.

Potts at first told authorities his wife "died in a fall down the cellar stairs." Later, he admitted he pushed her, police said.

the crop before it is matured, because of the late plantings.

A loss of between 5 and 15 per cent of the oats crop in some states was indicated, the experts said, but they added that winter wheat in much of the southwest had not been touched by rain.

Late last night the Missouri river broke through weakened points along the channel and rushed northward across country in eastern St. Charles county (Mo.) to meet the overflow of the Mississippi near West Alton, Mo. Every levee was out along a 75-mile stretch from Agusta to St. Charles, which was considered in immediate danger.

"It's no telling where the Missouri will go now," said R. A. Langenbacher, St. Charles county farm agent, who earlier had estimated damage in the county at $2,000,000.

At St. Louis, I. . Col. W. F. Lawlor of the army engineer's office revised the previous crest for the Mississippi upwards to 37 to 37.5 feet expected Sunday or Monday. The latter figure would be the highest mark since the 38-foot level of 1903 and the second highest on record. The river stage last night was about 36 feet.

In Indiana, the north half of Vincennes was threatened as the Wabash river early today topped workers sandbagging a gap in 26 feet—the highest level in history. Army engineers directed the levee but water was seeping through. Above Vincennes at Terre Haute, levee workers kept intact the Conover flood-wall which for 250 homes in the north edge of the city was the last bit of protection remaining. Cities on the Wabash, White, Mississinewa and St. Joseph rivers north of Terre Haute reported their flood danger diminishing as crests passed.

Maumee Valley Digs Out as Flood Drops

(By United Press)

The Maumee river valley, inundated from Toledo to Defiance, slowly began to dig itself out today as flooding river waters which caused heavy crop damage and forced evacuation of hundreds of residents began to recede.

The river was receding rapidly at Defiance where the crest was reached yesterday. Grand Rapids, however, still was under two feet of water. Row boats were used to evacuate families.

The flood closed Grand Rapids schools and postponed high school graduation exercises there last night.

At Nepoleon the waters were running off rapidly as civilian defense workers and local authorities prepared for the burdensome task of cleaning up the debris and returning families to their homes.

The flood threat abated at Van Wert, about 40 miles below Defiance on Town creek, but three schools were closed on order of the health commissioner when some students and teachers became ill, none seriously. The water was being tested for typhus.

an occasional submarine, will be unable to get through, but American commanders are not limited to blockade alone. They may attack Kiska as Attu was attacked after the Japanese are given time to starve and run short of ammunition, and perhaps even before.

Estimates by competent authorities put the enemy force on Kiska at upwards of 10,000 men whereas there probably were only 2,000 to 3,500 on Attu.

Defenses on Kiska include heavy guns guarding the harbor entrances and anti-aircraft positions around all important installations. Machine gun nests doubtlessly cover the beaches where landings could be effected. The main installations include an airfield, a seaplane base and a submarine base.

On the Southwest Pacific front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced 21 Japanese planes attacked four Allied points in New Guinea—inflicting minor damage at Douglas harbor, Milne bay, Dobodura and Port Moresby—as the enemy continued to show signs of aerial reinforcement.

More than 250 Japanese planes have been used in raiding Allied New Guinea bases since last Friday.

U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators dropped 18 tons of bombs on the large enemy base at Rabaul, New Britain, in the third attack there this week, and other Allied airmen hit the Japanese strongholds at Gasmata and Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

In Burma, the British command announced briefly that "patrol activity continues" on the Arakan front, along the Bay of Bengal, where the Japanese have been thrusting close to the frontier of India.

RAF bombers continued to pound the enemy's supply lines yesterday, following up two days of record-setting forays by U. S. army fliers who dropped 225 tons of high explosives on the Japanese invaders Tuesday and Wednesday.

Q: WHAT IS A Multi-Facet DIAMOND?

A: IT IS A DIAMOND THAT IS CUT, NOT WITH THE USUAL 58 FACETS, BUT WITH 98 . . .

Q: WHERE CAN I SEE RINGS WITH THE Multi-Facet DIAMONDS?

SHAW'S

Ordinary cut diamond; 58 facets; rough edge or girdle

MULTI-FACET Diamond; 98 facets; 40 extra facets around edge (more than 40 in some sizes)

AVAILABLE IN RINGS FROM $125 UP

Before it is polished, any diamond appears dull and lifeless. Only after leaving the cutter's bench does it attain its full, scintillating beauty. The finer the cutting, the more brilliant the stone. Multi-Facet Diamonds, product of a new method of cutting, have 40 extra facets around the edge, or girdle. These added facets create a myriad of light-reflecting surfaces. Moreover, since Multi-Facet cutting emphasizes the color, no off-color stones are used.

Advantages of Multi-Facet Diamonds:

- Every Multi-Facet Diamond has at least 98 facets.
- The 40 extra facets around girdle eliminate the rough edge; help prevent chipping.
- Multi-Facet cutting enhances color of stone.
- Increased light-catching surfaces add to brilliance.

This store is proud to have the opportunity to present Multi-Facet in this locality. We are introducing Multi-Facet Diamonds in smart rings from $125. Your inspection is invited.

WORKERS HOLD STOCK SHARES

Employes of Mansfield Sears Store Acquire 255 Shares Worth $17,850.

Employes of the Sears, Roebuck and company store in Mansfield have acquired 255 shares of stock in the company with a market value of $17,850, under the firm's savings and profit-sharing plan. A. R. Jones, manager of the Mansfield store, said today. Seventeen of thep store employes own stock.

As stockholders, the Mansfield employes shared in the $7,716,836 Sears, Roebuck and company contributed to the profit-sharing fund as the result of company operations in 1942, Jones said. In addition to the employe's stock in the firm, cash from firm profits is credited to him.

Company contributions to the profit-sharing fund are based on the worker's period of service with the firm. For employes who have been with the big retail establishment for less thn five years, the company contributed $1.03 for every dollar deposited by the worker in 1942. Contribution for workers with from five to 10 years of service was $2.06; more than 10 years of service, $3.09, and more than 15 years' service, $4 12.

Employes contribute five per cent of their pay to the savings fund, but the annual contribution is limited to $250 so that higher-salaried employes won't acquire too much of the stock.

Membership in the plan is voluntary after one year of continuous service with the company. Company management has no part in administration of the plan after the firm's contribution is made. A board of trustees and an advisory council of employes manage the plan.

The company has 11.000 employes on leave-of-absence to serve in the military forces. Approximately 7,000 of them were in the profit-sharing program before entering service and retain their membership while they are in service. They participated in benefits of the fund last year, and the company continues to make deposits for them as if they were still working.

WARNS FARMERS

War Board Says They Must Report Animals Killed.

Richland countians who slaughter livestock for sale are required to report the number of animals they kill monthly to the county rationing board, Guy L. Taylor, county war board chairman, said today.

Farmers and others in the county who sell meat have obtained 40 slaughter permits from the war board at Triple-A headquarters on North Diamond street, Taylor said. Not all of them have been filing reports with the board, he added

Registration of meat slaughterers helps the government to check black market activities.

LIFE IN WAR-TORN CHINA TO BE SHOWN IN Y. W. C. A. MOVIE

Concluding a program of special interest in the Y. W. C. A. in China, a meeting sponsored by the World Fellowship committee will be held for Y. W. C. A. members and friends Sunday at 3 p. m. at the building.

A moving picture entitled "Struggle for Victory" will be shown. The picture was taken in China by the late Rev William C. McCurdy in the Methodist mission in Chungking from 1937 to 1941. It has been made available for Y. W. C. A. use by Mrs. McCurdy, a member of the Chungking Y. W. C. A. board. The picture shows the life of the Chinese people in a country at war.

Mrs. C. J. Kalstein, chairman of the World Fellowship committee, will present the script accompanying the picture. Following this a devotional meditation on fellowship and sharing will be led by Miss Delia Evans. As a part of the program, a representative of each of the Y W. C. A clubs will present the globe banks in which their contributions to the Y. W. C. A. in China have been placed.

Refreshments will be served with Miss Thelma Bogan and Miss Lucille McClure in charge of the tea table.

PIGEONS CAUSE FIRE IN ATTIC

EAST ST. LOUIS—(U P)—Insurance companies may or may not classify this as "an act of God."

Fire Chief Russel Wright attended a fire in an unoccupied building and after the blaze was extinguished came to the conclusion that pigeons were the cause of the fire.

His report read:

"Pigeons nesting in the eaves of the building apparently picked up some matches in their search for twigs to build a nest. Some of these matches became accidentally lighted, setting fire to refuse in the attic."

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1943.

It's probably too soon to start worrying about what will happen to John L. Lewis when the meek inherit the earth.

The state legislature hopes to wind up its session by the end of May—which leaves little more than a week to correct almost five months' mistakes.

Now that English has been decided upon as the official language of the food conference, it's too bad that Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek isn't present to demonstrate how nice this language can be made to sound.

Very Few People Get 'Enough' Pay

AN OVERLOOKED subject for comprehensive survey is one that would disclose total requirements for payment of wages, salaries, profits, dividends, pensions, etc., based on the desires of all persons concerned.

Judged by frequency of changes to jobs which pay more money, and constant demands by organized workers for wage increases, coupled with expressed views by many that they are not getting "enough," the conclusion may be reached that very few people have as much income as they would like.

If the approximate requirements for compensation commensurate with individual ideas of what is "enough" could be learned, the matter of adjusting New Deal procedure to meet total needs would be much simplified.

It is obviously unfair to permit organized pressure from minority groups to influence governmental action that is not equally favorable to all productive workers whose earnings are deemed insufficient to meet needs.

"How much money would you like to earn and how many hours per week do you want to work," are questions that seem to need answering if the more optimistic of post-war planners are to have information on which to base estimates of how much money should be printed to meet requirements.

Nelson's Indiscreet Remark

UNLESS "human nature" has changed considerably in recent months, which it probably hasn't, there'll be a rush to buy more clothing than is needed, because of the indiscreet remark by Donald Nelson a few days ago that clothes rationing is "imminent."

"Imminent," according to Webster, means "near at hand; threatening to occur immediately—especially misfortune or peril."

Mr. Nelson added: "We are trying to avoid it—I think it would be a terrible thing"—but his use of the word "imminent" seems more likely to hasten than to retard clothes rationing.

The purpose of rationing is to assure fair distribution of limited supplies and this purpose is defeated by creating a buying rush such as always occurs after advance announcement of an impending scarcity.

When a shortage of any commodity is "imminent" rationing should be put into effect at the moment of announcement.

Labor Shortage Affects Cemetery

RETURN to a common practice of earlier days is seen in the request that lot-owners in Mansfield cemetery mow the grass on their own lots in advance of Memorial day.

Shortage of "hired help" has made it impossible to perform many customary services, and, as explained by Superintendent Denman, this applies to upkeep of Mansfield cemetery.

Individual responsibility for grass-cutting on family lots is still in vogue in some country cemeteries, and while this is not as convenient as the endowment method of providing for such service, it can be temporarily accepted as another war time task.

In addition to caring for their own cemetery lot, it would be a thoughtful act of friends or neighbors to volunteer leisure-time service in cutting the grass on cemetery lots of older persons who are unable to do it themselves—or possibly this would be suitable as a "good turn" activity of Boy Scouts.

Harvard Drops Football for Duration

HARVARD has given up intercollegiate football for the duration. This repeats the action of 1917, when Harvard was joined in this move by Yale and Princeton. But in general the first World war, like the second so far, saw surprisingly little reduction in intercollegiate football.

Harvard authorities give as their reasons the small number of undergraduates available for sports, heavy army and navy demands on university facilities for war training programs, an academic schedule that has been speeded up, and the requests from the Office of Defense Transportation to cut down unnecessary travel.

Such factors may well apply to other colleges. Some are already seriously disturbed about their future. To carry on, they may have to curtail many non-essential activities. These may or may not be thought to include football.

Dictatorship By Default

THERE is a possibility that this nation may go totalitarian by default. And if that happens, we will see "the beginning of a cycle of tyranny and impoverishment such as other nations have experienced when the individual was superseded by the State." That is the warning of Eric Johnson, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The danger of America going totalitarian arises from the illusion that government is blessed with an inexhaustible supply of wisdom and cash, which can be drawn on freely without any strings attached to freedom.

It is a dangerous illusion, a warped conception of democracy, the result of which has been a staggering growth of bureaucracy, debt, and political domination of private effort. This illusion must be erased before the future can be approached with confidence.

Frankly stated by Navy Secretary Knox: "We are not fighting with Russia, Great Britain and China because we love them. We respect them, but we are fighting for our own self-preservation."

Soon will come the baccalaureate sermon—which will be heard by many who cannot spell it. (Note to proofreader: Watch spelling please—we just checked it in the dictionary.)

WOLF AT THE DOOR—1943

Germany and Japan Soon to Feel Striking Power of United Nations

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL in his address at the joint session of congress made a couple of statements which give rise to the question of whether he had signalled any fundamental change in Allied strategy, and they were these:

1. "Regard the bringing of effective and immediate aid to China as one of the most urgent of our common tasks."

2. "Opinion, Mr. President, is divided as to whether the use of air power could by itself bring about the collapse of Germany and Italy. The experiment is well worth trying, so long as other measures are not excluded."

These striking passages naturally make one wonder whether the high command has abandoned the program of regarding Hitler as Enemy No. 1, and has given up the idea of invading the continent at the earliest feasible moment.

As a matter of fact it's quite likely Mr. Churchill deliberately has invited speculation with the idea of causing the enemy to burn midnight oil over the problem.

However, search of his speech fails to reveal to me any change in the basic policy laid down at the beginning of 1942.

The welcome indication that "effective and immediate aid" is to be given to hard-pressed China, thus throwing more weight into the war on Japan, doesn't mean that the Allies are easing up in their attack on Hitler and are moving all their war equipment into the Pacific. It does mean the Allies have amassed sufficient striking power so they can devote more energy to both jobs at once.

WE SEEM to get plenty of substantiation for that thought in this important statement by the Prime Minister:

"In our conferences in January, 1942, between the president and myself, and between our high expert advisers, it was evident that while the defeat of Japan would not mean the defeat of Germany, the defeat of Germany would infallibly mean the ruin of Japan. The realization of this simple truth does not mean that both sides should not proceed together . . .

Another indication of the Allied determination not to slacken in the European campaign is seen in Churchill's statement that "we must do everything in our power that is sensible and practical to take more of the weight off Russia in 1943." This was coupled with his prediction that Hitler "is reserving his supreme gambler's throw for a third attempt to break" Russia.

Still, doing everything "sensible and practical" for the Muscovites wouldn't necessarily include invasion and establishment of that second front which they are so anxious to see in France. Here we come up against the Premier's suggestion about trying to knock Italy and Germany out by bombing. Does this mean invasion has been abandoned. It's hard to believe so.

MR. CHURCHILL is a great believer in the efficacy of air power—as who isn't these days as we see this fighting service playing a major part in our progress towards victory? However, he is a military expert of long standing, and nobody ever heard him say you could occupy an enemy country and mop up its army with warplanes. Somewhere along the line a big Allied army has got to be put ashore on the continent to deal with Hitler's powerful land forces.

It's true, however, that you've got to bomb hell out of Italy and Germany before it will be feasible to invade with troops. We are in process of doing exactly this, and one suspects the shrewd Mr. Churchill has the idea that maybe we might be lucky enough to kill two birds with one stone.

If either Italy or Germany, or both of 'em should crack up under the bombing—why so much the better. Certainly Italy might succumb to air pressure, since she already is in the frame of mind to quit.

Listen World! By ELSIE ROBINSON

Spiritual Neglect

I DON'T KNOW what we can do about it, nor even what we ought to do about it, but it seems to me dreadful that our children should grow up without any spiritual instruction.

Mind you, I'm not saying "religious instruction," for it's plain that any effort to provide such courses in our public schools would start endless, bitter controversy. But it's appalling that youngsters should be allowed to grow from infancy to maturity without some sort of daily contact with the things of the spirit—some daily glimpse of those shining visions which have lifted men above the beasts.

Things weren't any better a generation ago, as far as the schools went. But the whole atmosphere of life was different. There was a sort of social conscience then—a general attitude about honesty and courage, purity and tenderness, that no child could escape.

As of goodness were a going business in which everyone was a partner. It wasn't confined to the "nice" people or the "nice" places. It was everywhere. You couldn't any more dodge that side of life than you could dodge the air or the rain.

Of course most of us went to Sunday School, too. Sunday School took the place of all sorts of modern diversion—movies and automobiling. It was our social as well as our religious center. But I doubt if, in the long run, it was any more instrumental in civilizing us youngsters than the general social attitude.

I'm always amazed when I read those explosive denunciations of youthful criminals. What else can we expect? We've trained them since they were babies to function in a purely materialistic world. We've advocated shrewdness, power—eulogized men and women who "made good."

And to the simple mind of the average tenement child, what can "making good" possibly mean but making money? Lots of money—as rapidly and ruthlessly as possible. Then why, I repeat, should we be surprised when the child puts our preaching into practice at his or her first opportunity?

AND the story of Jesus—a child growing up and never knowing of His friendliness—how brave He was—how kind to little children. Never knowing Him!—even the thought of it fills me with a sense of loss. Not religious at all. But a terrible lack, like never having had a friend or a dog. Or never seeing the mountains—or the sea! Yet there are thousands of youngsters like that. It's getting so that it's odd to find one who does know Him.

All those amazing new departments of education—all those floods and floods of scientific imagination—but never a word—in all the day of that lovely, mysterious world of the spirit which lies like a shining sheath around the small dark kernel of our materialism. Then we wonder why they're little barbarians—these babies of ours—charming, intelligent, but spiritually blind, deaf and dumb!

Isn't there something we can do—we older ones? Get together, somehow—lay aside our intolerance and suspicion, remembering only the small ones cradled in those tender arms, and the stern voice crying down the years—"WHOSOEVER SHALL OFFEND ONE OF THESE LITTLE ONES . . . IT IS BETTER FOR HIM THAT A MILLSTONE WERE HANGED ABOUT HIS NECK AND HE WERE CAST INTO THE SEA."

(Copyright, 1943)

Dave Boone Says:

WHEN you read the stirring stories of the great performances of Americans like Joe Foss and Joe McCarthy, air aces who think fast, move fast and act with incredible courage, it gives you a sort of sickening feeling to read about the bungling performances of our legislators in dealing with home problems.

* * *

If the boys who are winning this war did one-thousandth of the quibbling, stalling, hesitating and cowardly around-the-bush beating that is being done in deciding on tax legislation, we would never win a skirmish.

* * *

July 1 is only a few weeks away and the men and women of this country haven't yet the slightest idea what they will have to do to meet their tax burdens. Everything congress does just confuses them so much more.

* * *

If you want to keep your confidence in America these days the thing to do is to read about the real men on the fighting lines and avoid reading about the buck passers and politicians on the home front.

Words of the Wise

Before we are finally victorious, war must become a way of life with every one of us.—Brig. Gen. Alden H. Waitt.

Doubt Davies' Ability to Arrange For Roosevelt and Stalin to Meet

WASHINGTON—Insiders believe that if Ambassador Joe Davies, on his current Mission to Moscow, is able to persuade Stalin to sit down for a confab with Roosevelt, he will be a miracle worker.

The Russian premier has been about as leery of conferring with the president as John L. Lewis is of sitting down with the War Labor Board. In some respects, their attitude is similar.

According to the diplomatic grapevine, Stalin figures that a conference with the president means a substitute for a second front in France. He sees only one reason for the president of the United States wanting to talk to him, namely to explain why a 2nd Front can't be started in France. And he would much rather have the 2nd Front than a few hours of conversation, delightful as it might be.

Several weeks ago U. S. Ambassador Admiral Standley went to Moscow from Kuibyshev to invite Stalin to confer with FDR. But he couldn't even get to see Stalin. After cooling his heels for some time, he got word through Foreign Minister Molotoff that Stalin was too busy fighting the war.

Nevertheless, the White House is hoping that Joe Davies may be able to perform the miracle.

Note: Last summer another high-up U. S. visitor told Stalin that the United States was determined to start a 2nd Front in France. Stalin's reply was: "Yes, if the British will let you." (Stalin is not interested in a 2nd Front in the Balkans which he feels would take too long and would enter Russia's sphere of influence. He is interested only in a front directly across the English Channel.)

The Secretary of War.

SECRETARY of War Stimson, now nearing his 76th year, is not the energetic man he used to be, but he has one quality for which there is no substitute—character. Stimson's character sticks out all over him—his fairness, his determination, his sense of humor.

However, he remains sensitive about his age. Some time ago several of his friends and associates were discussing the qualifications of gaunt, grey Bernard Baruch as possible chief of the War Production Board. Undersecretary of War Patterson was urging Baruch as the ideal man, so were Gen. Somervell and Ferdinand Eberstadt, late of WPB. However, WPB Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson objected.

"Baruch is a great man," he said. "He has contributed some fine things to winning the war. But he's too old."

"Hmphhh!" snorted Stimson, "he's three years younger than I am."

"Darlan" For Italy?

PRO-DEMOCRATIC Italo-Americans are worried sick over repeated leaks that the president and his state department appeasers are planning to setup an Italian "Darlan" in Rome.

Rumor around the state department for some time has had it that when M-day arrived in Italy, Count Dino Grandi would be dressed up in new anti-Fascist clothes and made the leader of Italy. Working with him would be Crown Prince Umberto, never sympathetic with Mussolini, and possibly Il Duce's son-in-law Count Ciano, who has fallen from favor with the Nazis.

If true, such plans would cause a lot of heart-aches among pro-democratic Italians as well as the nationals of other occupied countries who really take the Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter at their face value.

Capital Chaff.

ONE factor behind Senator Bennett Clark's blocking of Gen. Ben (Yohoo) Lear's promotion is that Lear tried to retire Major Gen. Ralph E. Truman, cousin of Missouri's Senator Truman. Gen. Truman and Senator Clark both were Missouri national guard officers in the last war. In this war, Gen. Truman was stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., but Gen. Lear demands his retirement for age to inactive status. Gen. Truman has protested. Senator Clark is now blocking Gen. Lear's promotion. . . . Latest Republican slogan: "For President—John Bricker. For Vice President—Eddie Rickenbacker. Brick and Rick will Turn the Trick." . . . This summer Judge Thurman Arnold will go back to Laramie, Wyoming, of which he was once mayor, for the first time since he started trust-busting. . . . Washington's other vigorous citizen from Laramie is Maritime Commission Chairman Admiral Land, cousin of Lindbergh. . . . Sage old Josephus Daniels, ex-secretary of the navy, observes, apropos of the house on R street, that one wise man in the last war was Admiral Sam McGowan, Paymaster General of the Navy, who executed billions in contracts, but never accepted a single invitation to dinner.

Civil Air Heroes.

RECENTLY the merry-go-round published a column on the Civil Air Patrol. Here is a postscript.

Several Army pilots in the Gulf area recently received Distinguished Service medals for flying 200 hours over the ocean on anti-submarine patrol. These army flyers have the best equipment Uncle Sam could provide.

Pilots of Civil Air Patrol doing the same type of work are operating old one-engined planes. There are fifteen men who have done 300 hours and several have done 600. But they do not get Distinguished Service Medals.

DEFENSE OF SELFISHNESS

HE HAD a theory of how to succeed in industry. So he borrowed $150 in 1896 and went into business in Cleveland, Ohio. Now the workers in his factory are the highest paid anywhere in the world. They produce more per hour than any organization making a comparable product, in the world.

They sell for less than competing companies do. Stockholders in the company have never missed a dividend since 1918. They do about half the total arc welding business of United States. There is no labor turnover—no labor union. And the company has had no outside capital since it started.

"INTELLIGENT SELFISHNESS" is the theme and theory of a pamphlet that came to me, written by the president of this company. I found it stimulating. The gist is this:

"Selfishness has a bad reputation—but that's because it is not used intelligently. The greatest heights we attain as humans—patriotism, parenthood, friendship—are based upon the very human trait, selfishness. Its powers have never been entirely tapped. Arousing latent ability of man to produce, is the answer to the manpower problem.

"Profit cannot be a company's goal. Profit must be a by-product. Management and men are fellow workers. Neither is superior. Each is responsible. A factory worker has ideas, even though he cannot express them as well as a trained man of the world. Management must recognize managerial ability as it arises in the organization—when a manager slips, he must be eliminated.

"The company's goal must be to make a better and better product to be sold at a lower and lower price—profits to be divided between user, worker and stockholder.

"A sneak thief is selfish, but not intelligent. Collective bargaining is a kind of warfare, selfish but not intelligent. Exploiting the workingman is selfish but not intelligent. Charging "all the traffic will bear" is selfish, but not intelligent. War is selfish but not intelligent.

"When we as a nation adopt the principle of intelligent selfishness into our philosophy of life and industry, we will have stopped unemployment of the employable, stopped poverty for the able-bodied, and gone far toward eliminating misery, no matter how caused."

Charts and graphs illustrate the progress of the business, since its founding, show the results of "incentive pay." Comments by psychologists and psychiatrists reinforce the theme. Altogether it is an admirable bit of publicity as well as a new idea for most of us to think about.

ERNIE PYLE Roving Reporter

Handling War Prisoners Is Colossal Task; Food and Transportation Problems Involved.

NORTHERN TUNISIA—(By Wireless)—Most of the German prisoners have been worked out of the forward Tunisian area by now. Where they went we don't know. They've just left for the west.

Handling them and feeding them must be a tremendous job. It takes a lot of transportation to move those thousands of men back across Africa, and if we kept them in Africa we would have to use valuable shipping space bringing them food.

This colossal batch of humans is, indeed, a white elephant on our hands. And yet, as somebody says, what we want is about 50 more white elephants just like this one.

ALTHOUGH they are usually friendly and pleasant, you seldom find a prisoner who has any doubt that Germany will win the war. They say they lost here because we finally got more stuff into Tunisia than they had. But they laugh at the idea of our invading the continent. On the whole they can't understand why America is in the war at all, figuring it is not our business.

Whether from deliberate Nazi propaganda or mere natural rumor I don't know, but the prisoners have a lot of false news in their heads. For instance, some of them had heard that Japan had been at war with Russia for six months and had practically cleaned the Russians out of Siberia. One of them heard that the Luftwaffe had bombed New York. When told that this was ridiculous, he said he didn't see himself how it could be possible.

PVT. BILL CONNELL, of Brooklyn, had a funny experience. He was talking with an English-speaking prisoner, and the conversation finally unearthed the information that, as Private Connell says, "We know different people together"—meaning I'm sure that they had once actually lived in adjoining houses in Brooklyn. But that coincidence didn't cause any old-palship to spring up between them, for the prisoner was one of those bull-headed Nazis and Connell got so disgusted he didn't even ask his name.

The prisoner was very sarcastic, and said to Connell:

"You Americans are saps. You're still in the war, and I'm out of it."

I thought Connell's answer was pretty good. He replied:

"You're such a hot Nazi, but it's lots of good you're going to do your country from now on."

The first contacts of our troops with prisoners were extremely pleasant. So pleasant in fact that American officers got to worrying because the men found the Germans so likable. But if you talk to them long enough you find in them the very thing we are fighting this war about—their superior-race complex, their smug belief in their divine right to run this part of the world.

A little association with a German prisoner, like a little knowledge, is a bad thing, but if our troops could just have an opportunity to talk at length with the Germans I think they would come out of it madder than ever before at their enemy.

CAPTURED supplies show that the Germans use excellent materials in all their stuff. However, it seems to us that there is some room for improvement in their vaunted efficiency. They have more of a hodge-podge and more overlapping designs than we do. They have big 10-wheeler troop carriers with seats running crosswise, but it is far too much vehicle for the service it performs. It can't possibly be used for any other work than troop-carrying, and even for that it is an easy target, with men sitting up there in the open. And it is slow.

They also have a gadget that resembles a motorcycle except that the back end runs on two small caterpillar tracks instead of wheels. It's a novel idea, but as somebody says it can carry only three men and there's enough material wasted to make a young tank.

RUMMAGING around one supply dump I came upon a stack of copies of a new booklet entitled "Tausend Worte Italienisch." I picked up a handful, thinking to glean a little backyard Italian. It didn't occur to me at the time that the booklets obviously would be translating Italian into German.

The Germans do things thoroughly, we have to admit. My handful of booklets turned out not to be several copies of the same thing but a whole series of different booklets comprising a set of lessons for troops complete enough to give you a college course in Italian.

It seems a prodigal way to use money, yet I suppose it does make things better if the Germans are able to insult their allies in their own language.

No Old Shoes for Brides of 1943

By DOROTHY ROE
(CP) Fashion Editor.)

That moon is here again;
We mean the honeymoon—
The one that rhymes with croon
And spoon and tune and June.

ALL the old traditions of the wedding month will be observed again this year, with one important exception—there will be no old shoes tossed at 1943 American brides. And even rice may be treasured a little more than usual, what with the potato shortage, and what with this and what with that.

Otherwise everything is as it always was, only more so. There are more brides than ever, more handsome bridegrooms in uniform, and the brides themselves seem younger and more radiant than usual. Historians tell us this always happens in wartime, when romance proves its mettle, and courageous young lovers take their vows and face a perilous future unafraid.

Many of our brides are being married in mufti this year, because of the exigencies of war, when a marriage may take place at an army camp chapel and a honeymoon may last only a week-end.

But when there is time for planning, most brides still vote for a church wedding with all the trimmings. It doesn't take much time these days. Bridal outfitters are advertising that they can work up a first-class wedding, complete from wedding gown to bridesmaids' dresses, if you give them as much as a week's notice. One or two even offer to produce it all in two days.

As for the important bridal gown itself, the most popular choice of this year's June brides is white organdie or dotted swiss, done simply, with an old-fashioned look. White satin still has its devotees, of course, but since war brides are younger than in normal times, they gravitate naturally to simpler, more youthful styles.

1943 COLONIAL: The bride wears a green-dotted white organdie gown, colonial in style, even to the Martha Washington cap of matching material, and the diamond bow-knot pin at the neckline. The little flower girl wears white chiffon, with a tiny diamond-set gold cross. Colonial nosegays of garden flowers complete the picture.

Sorority Has Regular Meet With Mrs. William Abele

A progressive letter was written to Mrs Peter Gabor, an inactive member of the sorority, who is residing in Topeka, Kan.

Cards were in session during the evening. At a late hour, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Dale T Bryan, Park avenue west road, will entertain sorority members at the June 3 meeting

The next meeting will be a covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs Lial Ish, Buckingham street, on June 3.

Miss Barbara Smythe's room received the award for having the largest percentage of parents present.

P. T. A. members voted to hold a family picnic in the evening of June 4 at South park, instead of the usual lawn fete.

Several selections were presented during the program, by members of the Westinghouse Glee club, under the direction of Lawrence Chamberlain. Accompaniment was by Maurice Stretch.

At the close of the program, the evening was spent socially.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"Oh, of course," Stephen Redfield answered promptly. But there was distinct uneasiness in the glance he set me.

"You will please stay here, Katharine," I said. "Mr. Redfield can have nothing to tell me which you cannot hear. He should know that if it is anything which it is all right not to pass on to my father, you will keep his confidence as sacredly as I would."

I told myself that I was speaking only the truth. Katharine indeed would keep his confidence as sacredly as I would--only there would be nothing "sacred" about my treatment of what he was going to tell me.

Withdraws His Objection.

Steve's voice was suddenly ingratiating as he said, "Of course, I will withdraw my objection." Then a note, an intonation of whimsical reproach crept into his voice as he turned to me. "It used to be 'Steve'!" he said.

"Only occasionally," I said, "because you seemed so much younger than I. But I really prefer to address you more formally. I do not like to use first names except for my relatives and most intimate friends."

He made no further protest, but I wondered if he had guessed from my use of the phrasing "seemed so much younger," that I knew that the extremely juvenile-looking actor, was in reality nearer to my years that he was to Mary's.

I wasted no more time, but spoke quickly and decidedly. "Please sit down," I said, indicating a chair, while Katharine unobtrusively set down in a far corner of the room. "I have very little time."

"It won't take long," he said. "It's simply this. I must ask this question, and you are the only one of whom I dare to ask it. I haven't seen Noel—since—since that time'—he had the grace to avert his eyes at the reference, "and I think I am in Mr. Vertizen's bad graces. I rarely see him, and he is very stand-offish when I do. And nobody else knows—"

"Will you kindly come to the point?" I asked impatiently.

"Well, then!" He drew a deep breath. "When is Mary coming back to the play?"

Toys With Truth.

I toyed for a second with the idea of telling him the truth and saying tersely, "The minute you are out of it for good." But I sternly repressed that inclination, and answered, "I haven't the slightest idea."

There was consternation in his eyes. "She isn't getting better!" he said anxiously, but I knew that his anxiety had no root in any consideration for Mary's welfare.

"Oh, yes, she is getting better," I assured him. "But those sprains take time, you know, and I am sure it will be several weeks before the surgeon permits her to resume regular work."

"Oh," he said, and the exclamation was like a groan. "I don't see how I am going to endure it for several weeks longer!"

"Endure what?" I snapped, nearly at the end of my patience."

He rose and threw his arms out with a dramatic gesture.

"Endure Constance Bridgeman's trying to steal my scenes!" he declaimed.

Baby Can Be Taught to Enjoy Milk

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH.D.

Many families don't provide enough milk for the growing child. Many children for whom enough is provided do not choose to drink it. Some children, indeed, from three to 15, consume no milk unless it is disguised. It is hardly possible for a child to get a quart or, even a pint, of milk daily in this way. Nor is it for his best education to have any person go to so much trouble to prepare for him constantly many foods which include milk.

Suppose your child of three will not drink milk, or enough of it. Place before him at each regular meal, a small portion of milk in a cup or glass, less than half full, perhaps. Tell him just once, calmly, he may have no other food till he drinks all the milk before him. In case he chooses to drink it, let him have other foods afterwards. If he does not drink it, have his meal end at once, making sure he cannot get any other food except some fruit juice till the next regular meal time. (Keep no account of his objections or crying.) Then proceed as before. Continue this procedure until he chooses to take the milk.

Should he develop nausea after holding out for two or three meals, consult your doctor. The chances are yu won't have the spine to hold out so long yourself! After he has complied for several days, increase the amount of milk, gradually, that he shall drink before having any other food. Don't increase the amount too quickly.

Do the same with the child of six or ten who has not been drinking milk, or as much as he should.

Don't begin this training with the child of any age, unless or until you are sure you can manage yourself and show no excitement or anger and can seal your lips when you should; and also can get co-operation from the rest of the adults of the family; until, moreover, you can carry through and keep other foods from the child during meals and between meals till he conforms.

This and many other eating problems I discuss more at length in my special bulletin on the subject, to be had by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a three-cent stamp on a self-addressed envelope.

Some school-age children who learn at school of the food values of milk for building a strong and healthy body are induced to educate themselves to drink milk and eat other essential foods, beginning with a very small portion at a time. However when parents try the health appeal, they generally get too preachy and put too much doubt and vexation into their voice.

A few young children will drink so much milk they have not room or appetite for other essential foods. In some cases, indeed, milk should be withheld from the child of 2, 3 or 5 until he has first eaten some of the essential solid foods offered him. As a rule, however, the problem is to get the child to drink enough milk, and his parents to provide it for him in abundance. By the way, a glass of warm milk at bedtime will induce some tired, restless children to go to sleep promptly.

Q. Why is it that the little child whose mother lies down beside him till he goes to sleep, or rocks him to sleep, is likely to awaken often in the night?

A. Because as the youngster stirs and fails to find his mother near, he is awakened by this discovery. Otherwise, as he stirred he probably would have gone back to sleep. An added factor is his fear that she might slip away since, probably, she has tried to do so a number of times.

Q. At social gatherings and our Mothers' club, many of us young mothers have agreed that our children are growing more jittery and that we parents have grown more jittery, too.

A. I think you are right. My special bulletins, "The Nervous, Jittery Mother," and "Nailbiting and Other Nervous Habits in the Child," might offer some helpful suggestions. Each bulletin can be had by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q. How old must a child be before he can feel the effect of strained relations—I don't mean quarrelling—between his parents?

A. A few months old, perhaps.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

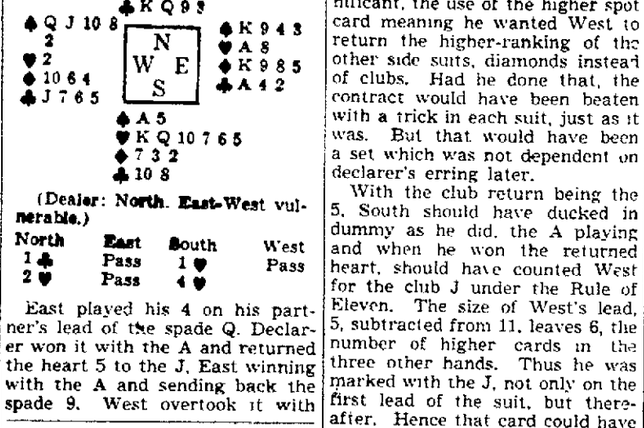
"The Authority on Authorities"

READ THE SIGNPOSTS

In a delicate contract, the declarer should be something like a traveler in strange territory. He should watch for every signpost, and read every direction with great care. The same goes, incidentally, for the defenders. Sometimes a road which seems at first to be unmarked is clearly pointed out by not one, but a number of different guides.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	4 ♥

East played his 4 on his partner's lead of the spade Q. Declarer won it with the A and returned the heart 5 to the J. East winning with the A and sending back the spade 9. West overtook it with the 10, but clearly both he and the declarer failed to grasp the significance of that card, though the 3 was out of sight.

We are now shifted to the club 5, which dummy ducked, the A scoring for East. Not liking any lead from his hand, he used his heart 8, which South took. The diamond finesse was now tried, and failed, putting him down one.

West should have read the spade 9 return to the second trick when he knew his partner had the K and also probably the 3, as significant, the use of the higher spot card meaning he wanted West to return the higher-ranking of the other side suits, diamonds instead of clubs. Had he done that, the contract would have been beaten with a trick in each suit, just as it was. But that would have been a set which was not dependent on declarer's erring later.

With the club return being the 5, South should have ducked in dummy as he did, the A playing and when he won the returned heart, should have counted West for the club J under the Rule of Eleven. The size of West's lead, 5, subtracted from 11, leaves 6, the number of higher cards in the three other hands. Thus he was marked with the J, not only on the first lead of the suit, but thereafter. Hence that card could have been finessed against, and so two diamonds could have been discarded on the clubs. That would have avoided the risk of the diamond finesse, which was clearly marked to South as a loser by East's return lead of that spade 9 in place of the K or 3.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, May 22.

The astral influences affecting the affairs of this day are rather adverse unless managed with good judgment. The danger may be from secret enmities reflecting on the good name. Duplicity of flagrant nature should be guarded against by alertness and precaution.

Those whose birthday it is may have a dubious year unless they are alert to pitfalls. Keep vigilant and shun all questionable entanglements. The love relations are particularly under this menace.

A child born on this day while having native shrewdness may be the victim of frauds, and sharpers, who may involve them in serious entanglements, reflecting on the character.

URGES 'SIMPLE' BOND PLAN FOR POSTWAR GOODS

Chairman of U. S. Marketing Association Seeks Plan Adoption.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—Although some recent proposals for the special sale of war bonds as a basis for postwar buying are "unworkably cumbersome," the basic idea remains sound, in the opinion of Robert J. McFall, chairman of an American Marketing association committee seeking adoption of such a plan.

The Victory Merchandise Bond plan of the association, McFall declared, is an extremely simple concept. It would require neither elaborate government machinery, he asserted, nor the addition of a new bureau of government administration and it would greatly reduce the postwar burden on the U. S. Treasury.

Applicable to the purchase of all kinds of durable consumer goods for postwar delivery, to the purchase of homes and to the purchase of education, McFall said the plan would work as follows:

1. A special series of war bonds, to be sold NOW by "the best sales forces in the nation," would be issued.

2. The bonds would be used for the purchase of goods to be made and delivered after the war on a priority basis—that is to say, "first come, first served."

(The "priority basis" is necessary, according to McFall, to give the fullest possible incentive to BUY NOW).

3. The purchaser would have the option of making the postwar purchase from the salesman who transacted the bond, or from the sales representative of another product or service, pending a "change of mind" in the interim.

(The bond would bear a "priority number" which would be good for any type of merchandise the holder would want to convert the bond into when peace comes).

4. The U. S. Treasury would not have any interest in what the bond purchaser wanted originally or purchased eventually. It would function only as a cashier for the bonds, redeeming them for the sales representatives only after the actual delivery of goods purchased by the bondholder.

The resultant gearing of redemption with the actual delivery of goods purchased by the bonds would prevent a run on the treasury, McFall pointed out.

"The bonds," he said, "could not all be cashed at once, causing a stampede for funds and a resultant postwar inflation from a vast flood of cash while the delivery of goods would still be slow.

"Such unsafe finance is the danger if too large a bulk of the present type 60-day conversion bonds are held for the purchase of postwar goods."

The Victory Merchandise Bond plan would make the postwar conversion of goods "thoroughly orderly instead of chaotic," McFall said. "It would offset inflationary dangers as well as provide a sound basis for postwar changeover to settled employment and business."

IMPORTANT ROLE

DURHAM, N. H.—(U.P.)—Perhaps the most important plant in New England is eelgrass.

Scientists, after a two-year study, say that the disappearance of eelgrass along the coast is the cause of a decreasing supply of clams and fish.

The plant serves as both a food and a protective hiding place for the finny ocean dwellers. In addition it catches and holds silt that is washed from the rivers and thus keeps the ocean channels open.

He was a Belgian soldier captured by the Nazis when his country was overrun. Returned home on parole, he escaped through France, traveling 2,600 miles by foot, bicycle and on freight trains, his destination New York. He took out United States citizenship papers at once.

LET CONTRACTS FOR ROAD JOBS

State Awards 17 Miles of Highway Work In County To Willoughby Firm.

Seventeen miles of four state and federal highways in the Mansfield area will be resurfaced early this summer under a $66,019 contract let to the Northeastern Road Improvement company of Willoughby, it was announced today by Vance Grimes, division state highway engineer at Ashland.

Two miles of U. S. Route 30 from the eastern corporation limits of Mansfield to the intersection with State Route 39 will be included in the repair project. The section of highway is 30 feet wide.

Also scheduled for re-surfacing with black-top materials are a seven-mile section of U. S. Route 30-S from Galion eastward toward Mansfield, four miles of State Route 98 from the Crawford county line northward to Plymouth, and a three-mile section of State Route 61 from Crestline northward toward Shelby.

Grimes said the work in this area is a part of a state-wide program to repair the heavy damage caused by the severe weather of the past winter. The Willoughby contractor will be ready to start on the jobs within the next two weeks, he said.

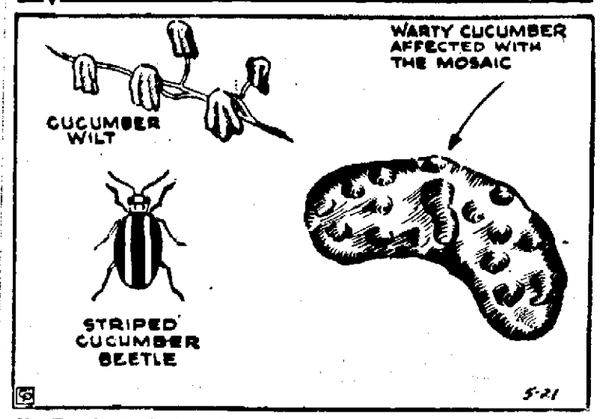
Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH



Be Ready to Battle Cucumber Beetles In Victory Garden.

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Ass'n.

If the cucumber vines in last year's Victory garden became diseased it will be best this year to plant the vines in a different section of the garden and select disease-resisting varieties. The Chinese variety, for example, is extremely disease-resistant. It is claimed, in fact, that this variety is free of both blight and fungus diseases. Longfellow is another variety that is a vigorous grower and is less subject to disease than many other varieties. Long Green also is unusually hardy and disease-resistant.

Cucumber wilt is carried from one plant to another by the striped cucumber beetle, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, and certain other beetles. The beetle carries the spores of this wilt disease on its back. The first sign of this disease is a wilting of the cucumber vine leaves, as illustrated. Shortly thereafter the entire vine wilts and then dies. Young plants can be protected against both the striped cucumber beetle and the twelve-spotted beetle by spraying the plants with rotenone, pyrethrum or tobacco dust.

Mosaic or white pickle disease causes stunted cucumber vines and wrinkled or mottled foliage. The crop will be smaller as a result of this disease and the fruits on a diseased plant are often crooked and covered with green warts, as illustrated, or the fruit may be nearly white in color.

Mosaic disease lives over-winter on the seeds of wild cucumber, milkweed and pokeweed and is carried to the cultivated cucumber vines by the striped beetle.

THEATERS

Opens at Ohio.

"The More the Merrier," Columbia's comedy production, starring Jean Arthur, Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn, opens tomorrow at the Ohio. The picture is built around the crowded living conditions in wartime Washington. Miss Arthur, playing the part of a Washington secretary, decides to rent one room of her tiny apartment as a patriotic motive. Coburn talks Miss Arthur into renting him the room despite her intentions of renting only to a woman. Things become more complicated when Coburn rents half of his room to McCrea. With the three of them sharing Jean's "parlor, bedlam and bath," a series of hectic incidents follow.

Crystal Gazer.

Paulette Goddard assumes the role of a crystal ball gazer in "The Crystal Gazer," coming to the Madison tomorrow. Miss Goddard is co-starred with Ray Milland. Down to her last 38 cents, young Toni Gerard (Paulette) plunges all at the honky tonk of Madame Zenobia. Impressed at the madame's ability, Toni decides to take up business in the same field. Her first customer is Brad Cavanaugh (Milland) and Toni tells him he will meet a red-headed beauty in a certain restaurant the next day. His curiosity aroused, Milland visits the restaurant. He finds the red head, but he doesn't know that she is actually Toni, out of her "gazing" costumes. Co-attraction is "The Falcon Strikes Back."

Benny at Ritz.

Jack Benny in "The Meanest Man in the World," is a scourge to kiddies and an ogre to old ladies. In fact, Benny is so mean, he ties cans to dogs' tails and takes candy from six-year-olds. The film is showing at the Ritz. As a small town lawyer, Benny is a failure. He is brilliant in knowledge, but is not stern enough. He decides the only way to get ahead is to be tough. And he does just that. Other picture at the Ritz is "Santa Fe Scouts."

Gang War.

A timely drama of food racketeering during wartime is now playing at the Park. "Boss of Big Town" is built up about the tracing down and breaking up of a gang of political bigwigs, intent on tieing up a city's food supply. The Range Busters return to the screen in the second feature, "Land of Hunted Men." Ray Corrigan, Dennis Moore and Max Terhune are seen as the Range Busters.

Unique Design On Mail Meter Aims To Halt Griping

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—Now for the first time Hitler, Mussolini, Hirohito and the imp "Inflation," those four modern horsemen of death, disease, pestilence and poverty, gallop across a mail meter design with the approval of the Post Office Department. It's all part of Uncle Sam's efforts to keep up morale on the rationing front.

The design, developed by Pete Yoder of the Morris Plan Bankers association, and Charles Howell, Washington newspaper cartonist and artist, is the first to cary the likeness of the heads of the three Axis powers. A gleeful imp whose tail spells out "Inflation" points to the Axis trio with the admonition, "IF YOU MUST SQUAWK, BLAME THEM—AND WATCH OUT FOR ME!" It is intended, say its sponsors, "to take the sting out of rationing and to direct any griping and beefing where it properly belongs."

The Morris Plan Bankers Association, which hereafter will carry the emblem and slogan on all its mail, will furnish without cost the art work for making the emblem to all comers who use postage meters. Theory back of this offer is that the wider circulation given the design the greater will be its contribution to morale.

IN THE CAPITAL-- By Raymond Clapper

STOCKHOLM -- (By Wireless) -- The Germans' most effective propaganda, and about the only German line that has any effect on this part of the world, is that they are fighting to save Europe from Russia.

Nothing up this way makes sense unless the fear of Russia is kept in mind. It is the basis of most of the indifference to our side that exists among a limited number of people in Sweden, and particularly it is the key to much of the trouble with Finland.

Clapper

The Finns are playing the German game, although they are not fighting actively now and a kind of tacit armistice exists. Yet the position of Finland cannot be summarized simply by dismissing it as pro-Nazi. Our relations with Finland are bad. They have been on the point of a break for some time, and recently the thread was ready to be snapped when a sudden postponement came, just about the time the Russian-Polish quarrel exploded.

Information from good sources is that the Finns are genuinely friendly to us on the whole. Even Marshal Mannerheim, who is regarded with extreme disfavor among American anti-Fascists, has a strong anti-Nazi strain. He makes it a point to speak French instead of German to Nazi liaison officials, and he jealously keeps the Germans' hands off the actual running of his army.

Pro-German sentiment in Finland exists chiefly in the upper middle classes and in industrial circles. And it is usually true that any enemy of Russia is considered a friend of Finland. Also, there are some outright native Nazis. In the main, however, the strength of pro-German feeling derives from the idea of Finnish patriots that Germany can save them from Russia.

The worst situation pertains to the Finnish secret police, whose chief is a small edition of Himmler. He uses terrorism on organizations and leaders friendly to our side. Anyone known to be friendly to the Allies in an active way is likely to be intimidated, if not jailed on trumped-up charges. Undoubtedly some of the tactics of the Finnish secret police with regard to friends of America in Finland have had something to do with the sharp attitude of Washington toward Finland.

This attitude of the secret police is not typical, however, of the attitude of the Finnish people toward America. In fact, the average Finn looks on America as a real friend. The Finns feel that only America will be in a position, when Germany is defeated, to intercede at all for them against Russia's demands. They believe that America might succeed in softening the fate of Finland at the end of the war.

It is going to be difficult to satisfy the Finns, because they hate the Russians with a fanatical fire. The coals never burn out from one century to the next. Nothing Stalin could say would have the slightest effect, probably, as the Finns would believe nothing out of Moscow. We cannot expect them to be reasonable, because they will not be, any more than a child who is afraid of the dark will be reasonable about it.

The widespread fear of Russia is one big fact in northern Europe that America and all of the Allies must deal with in their psychological warfare now, as well as in making peace. If we start on the theory that everybody will be rational, nothing will be accomplished. We must find a way to cushion irrational fears. The answer will not lie in anything Russia says, but in the extent of the agreements that Russia is willing to accept to insure that the smaller countries can breathe. Russia is not likely to be thwarted in having security in the Baltic.

Stable peace in northern Europe depends on how successfully this conflict can be adjusted at the end of the war. Above all, it should be remembered that we are dealing with a hatred which is several centuries old and which could cool only slowly at best.

OHIO ASSEMBLY DRIVES TO END LONG SESSION

Seeks To Wind Up Business Next Week and Adjourn on June 8.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—The 95th Ohio General Assembly was swung into a stretch drive to complete its work next week and adjourn June 8 after a 10-day recess.

Major problems still to be settled next week include distribution of $1,500,000 to the state's schools for rehabilitation, senate approval of the general appropriations and sundry claims acts and agreement on a plan to impose wartime unemployment compensation surtaxes on Ohio industry.

House Majority Leader William H. Deddens, R., Hamilton, introduced the adjournment resolution yesterday as the house adjourned for the week. Leaders said solution of school problems should permit completion of work next week, allowing a 10-day recess until June 8 to allow Governor Bricker to sign or veto bills before a final adjournment.

The house education committee yesterday proposed a compromise for school rehabilitation which would distribute funds among all districts with a tax duplicate of less than $5,000 per pupil. Both houses have agreed back salaries to teachers should be paid first but the senate has insisted the balance of the rehabilitation fund should go only to delinquent districts.

A special house committee meeting Monday probably will recommend adoption of the compromise formula.

The house yesterday yielded to senate insistance that probate judges be allowed o collect a one-dollar fee for marriage certificates.

On motion of Rep. John L. Catlett, R., Richland, the house reversed its earlier rejection of a conference committee report recommending allowance of the certificate fee in a bill which abolished other fees received by probate judges and granted them increased salaries after Feb. 9, 1945. Legalization of the marriage certificate fees had been added to the bill by senate amendment.

The house also accepted a conference committee report previously adopted in the senate which completed action on a bill to revise the entire licensing procedure by dozens of state agencies.

ARMY PROBING PLANE'S CRASH INTO GAS TANK

12 Killed as Flames Leap Hundreds of Feet Into Air Over Chicago.

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO--Army officials today launched an inquiry into the worst plane disaster in Chicago's history, the crash of a huge four-motored Liberator bomber into a towering gas storage tank which killed all 12 on board.

The bomber, groping its way at only 100 feet altitude through unfavorable weather, smashed yesterday into the 485-foot high tank filled with 18,000,000 cubic feet of illuminating gas, causing a terrific explosion that rocked southwest Chicago.

Flames shot hundreds of feet into the sky. They were followed by a dense pall of smoke which spread over the region as tar used for sealing the tank burned and smoldered most of last night. The tank was said to be the largest in the world.

Names of 10 of the 12 victims were released at the Forth Worth, Tex., army flying field, where the plane had taken off at 6 a. m. (CWT) yesterday on a routine training flight.

One of them was Capt. A. W. Lent of Hamilton Field, Calif., a passenger.

The names of two others, also said to be passengers, were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The others killed and their next of kin were:

Capt. R. Gilcrease, flight instructor, wife Mrs. Agnes C. Gilcrease, Houston, Tex.; Second Lieut. David S. Alter, Pittsburgh, Pa., flight officer, mother Mrs. Diana S. Alter, Pittsburgh. Lieut. Alter was married only six weeks ago to Miss Margaret Kelly at Fort Worth; First Lieut. Harry B. Messick, jr., Indianapolis, head of the navigation section of the Fort Worth field ground school, mother Mrs. Ann A. Messick, Fort Worth. Lieut. Messick was on the flight as navigation officer.

Second Lieut. Frederick L. Dutt, student officer, father Edward O. Dutt, Wadsworth, O. Second Lieut. John C. Wallace, student officer, mother Mrs. Henrietta B. Wallace, Luling, Tex.; Pvt. (FC) Nick Lonchar, aerial engineer, father, Mike Lonchar, Weirton, W. Va.; Sgt. Arthur A. Hubert, aerial engineer, mother Mrs. Mary Hubert, New York City; Staff Sgt. Norman W. Yutzy, aerial engineer, Canton, Mo., mother, Mrs. Bertha Yutzy, Garrett, Pa.; Technical Sgt. Ben F. Zumwalt, aerial engineer, sister Mrs. Eula M. Smith, Ingram, Tex.

The great bomber came into Chicago from the southwest, flew to the north beyond the airport and had turned back south when it struck the gas tank.

FAIR ENOUGH-- By Westbrook Pegler

LOS ANGELES--Having caught up with the Warner Brothers' production of Joseph Davies' propaganda story, "Mission to Moscow," I would now like to ask Davies whether he would approve the execution of Earl Browder as a conspirator against the government of the United States and the mass execution of a great number of other American Communists and pro-Communists, including those who have held positions in our government.

Pegler

I think this is a fair question because not only in his book, on which the film is based, but more openly in the film itself, Davies indicates a personal and political belief that the men whom Russia put to death for conspiring with Hitler and Japan against the Stalin government deserved their punishment. We can ignore the fact that the Russian system decides all doubts in favor of the prosecution and flouts the American concept for justice, as Davies, himself, admitted in the book. After all, they were Russians and they were tried in Russia under Russian laws.

* * *

But Davies is an American and an American lawyer, moreover, and still in both story and picture he agrees that men who conspire against the safety of their government deserve to die.

Now, what is the status of Earl Browder?

He is a native American, but the head of the Communist party in the United States. And the Communist party is an agency of a foreign government and is dedicated to the violent overthrow of the American government.

Is that my opinion? It is, to be sure, but it is also the opinion of the highest law officer of the United States government today, Francis E. Biddle, the attorney general.

"The Communist party of the United States," Biddle wrote in his official opinion on the Harry Bridges deportation case, "a section of the so-called third international, was founded in 1919; and, after its name was changed several times, became the Communist party of the U. S. A. The third international advocated the class struggle, which was described as entering the phase of civil war in America. Illegal methods were also advocated where necessary, to carry on its work, systematic agitation in the army, the renouncing of patriotism, the revolutionary overthrow of capitalism. The American section adopted a program declaring: 'The Communist party will systematically and persistently propagate the idea of the inevitability of and necessity for violent revolution and will prepare the workers for armed insurrection as the only means of overthrowing the capitalist state.' The Communist party teaches the violent overthrow of existing governments, including that of the United States."

There have been some denials that the third international and the Communist party of the U. S. A. are subsidiaries of the Soviet government, but surely Davies would not believe them. Even Mrs. Roosevelt has said that the Communist organization here is beholden to a foreign government and she did not mean Germany or Britain or France. Obviously, she meant Russia. Furthermore, the evidence, indeed the proof, that the Communist party of the U. S. A. is an agency of the Moscow government is no less convincing than the proof that the defendants in the Moscow liquidations were in league with enemies of the Soviet.

If this country were to adopt the method which Davies approved in the Russian liquidations, Browder and every other professed Communist in the country and all those party-liners who have collaborated with them would be convicted of treason and shot.

Davies' venture into propaganda pleads for understanding between the people of the United States and the people of Russia, a very desirable purpose. The two peoples are, in fact, total strangers and a world apart and, as people, may have much in common, aside from their common enemy in Germany.

But that understanding will never be possible until Soviet Russia openly repudiates and actually abolishes, in loyal observance of her solemn promise given in the treaty of recognition, the Communist fifth column in this country. Thus Russia can do overnight and this is the greatest obstacle to confidence and understanding.

H. F. WEBSTER DIES IN AUTO

Mansfield Tire Sales Manager Taken By Death While on Way Home From Plant.

Harry Francis Webster, 57, sales manager of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company since 1916, died at the wheel of his car just outside the company property at about 5:10 p. m. yesterday. Death was due to an apoplectic stroke.

Mr. Webster was driving away from the plant with J. S. Wainwright, general sales manager of the company, in the Webster car. Both men were listening to a baseball game on the car radio, when Mr. Webster pulled over to the curb on Newman street, turned off the ignition switch and then slumped over the wheel.

He was taken to Mansfield General hospital, but was dead on arrival there.

Mr. Webster came to Mansfield in 1916 from Chicago, where he was born and where he had been engaged in the rubber business since 1909.

Surviving are his widow, Lillian, at the family home, 470 West Fourth street; two daughters, Mrs. E. A. Oliver, Mansfield, and Mrs. Gene Sweeterman, Berea; his mother, Mrs. Margaret Webster, Oak Park, Ill., a sister, Ethel, also of Oak Park, and four grandchildren.

His body has been removed to the Finefrock funeral home to remain until funeral services, which will be conducted at 9:30 a. m., Monday, from St. Peter's church, by Msgr. R. C. Goebel. Burial will be in Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

Like Olive Oyl of the "funnies" Richland county girls must want to be June brides. At least the probate court records would indicate that. During the past two weeks Cupid has been snubbed with marriage license applications hitting a new low. Only half a dozen marriage licenses are entered on the books for May. Then too maybe the weather has something to do with the situation. Crops may flourish in the rain but sunshine and moonlight, they say, are weather conditions under which young love seems to flourish.

A story in Sunday's News-Journal, pertaining to Boy Scout plans to help the farmers this summer, has caused a little excitement at scout headquarters. A part of the story read, "The average man can shock six acres of wheat an hour, and it is estimated that a boy can shock four acres in the same time." According to Floyd Dent, area scout executive, many farmers have called headquarters wanting to know where they could locate these "whiz kids." The statement should have read, "the average man can shock six acres of wheat in 10 hours, and it is estimated that a boy can shock approximately 4 acres in six hours."

BRICKER VETOES 'MINORS' BILL

Rejects Woman Senator's Plan To Shift Responsibility In Liquor Sales.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS--Governor Bricker greeted Democratic Sen. Margaret Mahoney, Cleveland, with veto of one of her bills as she returned to the capitol yesterday after a "nervous breakdown" induced by house committee inaction on one of her bills.

The vetoed bill would have exempted liquor dealers and state store employes from prosecution for sale of beer and liquor to minors when the youthful customers presented a written statement and other evidence they were eligible purchasers.

"This bill seeks to transfer the responsibility for violating the law from the seller to the minor making the purchase," Bricker said in his veto message. "Sale to minors is strictly prohibited in the law. The state store employes and permit holders should be held to strict responsibility in this respect.

He said the bill would be "an open inducement to perjury on the part of the minors and an incentive to promote it on the part of the seller."

The house roundly defeated one of Miss Mahoney's bills, voting 73-44 against a senate-approved measure authorizing common pleas judges to appoint commissions of lawyers for examination of notary public applicants.

The only woman senator said she was "kidding about the nervous breakdown," but following her absence from the senate for several days the house insurance committee gallantly reported out one of her bills with a verse inviting her return.

ON BROADWAY-- By Dorothy Kilgallen

Miss Midnight's Notebook.

MANHATTAN GLITTER: Fred Allen and Jack Haley arm-in-arming down Broadway with their wives bringing up in the rear like charming bodyguards. . . . The Bing Crosbys sampling that New York beef at the Chateaubriand. . . . Harry Richman, in a vanilla-colored suit and a copper-colored suntan, looking like a poster for the Florida Chamber of Commerce at the Leon & Eddie ringside. . . . Wide-eyed Bette Davis cocktailing in friendly fashion with her ex-spouse, Harmon Nelson. . . . George M. Kaufman nibbling an omelet at the Blue Angel. . . . Nanette Fabray of "By Jupiter" looking pretty in a raincoat and soaked tresses during an afternoon downpour.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN: The Follies Bergere show, coming up, will have an international complexion. . . . When Miriam Hopkins asked Roger Stearns of the 1-2-3 to give her the recipe for one of the club's special dishes, he told her: "Sorry, but I never reveal a sauce." (Owwww!) . . . At the Hurricane, Jackie Miles worried about correct etiquette in case the Duke and Duchess of Windsor happened in. "I'd drop a curtsy," he mused, "but in this mob, I'd never find it again!" . . . Marianne O'Brien of the Follies and Charles Martin, the radio director, are telling friends they'll wed in June. . . . Bing Crosby is displaying a gift from his wife, Dixie Lee—a watch bearing the inscription "Strictly from Dixie." . . . English authoress Ethel LeVane's forthcoming book, "A Song Is Born," is based on the real life story of Ruth Lowe, whose heartbreak inspired her to write "I'll Never Smile Again."

FABLES FROM THE FIFTIES: Anybody who's been around the classier joints east of Broadway has applauded the routine of good-looking young Russell Swann, a magician whose deftness in pulling a canary out of a dowager's ear is equalled by his amusing tongue-in-cheek patter. Russell started his Manhattan career at the Village Barn in the days when his brother James was working there as a waiter.

Russell went on to bigger and better things—the Rainbow Room, the Savoy-Plaza, the Waldorf-Astoria—but James stayed on, just waiting on tables. Three times he talked the management into letting him try his hand at magic—and three times, they've handed him his tray and sent him back to serving customers.

It looked for a while as though James were destined to be the unlucky brother in the Swann family. But he wouldn't be licked.

He took a course in photography, and proved better at that than at sleight-of-hand. Several weeks ago, he acquired the photographic concession at the Village Barn; soon afterwards, he got two other night club picture concessions.

He's made so much money that now he's planning to buy his own night club. And when he does, he's chosen the first headliner—a young magician named Russell Swann.

NOW YOU CAN IMPORT WHISKY

Herbert Rules State Must Order It for You.

COLUMBUS --(AP)-- Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert held today that individual liquor consumers may import whisky into Ohio, provided they pay the $1 a gallon state tax and the state's profit mark-up.

The purchasers must be made through the Ohio liquor control department and can cover any brand which the state does not stock, the attorney general informed Liquor Director Don A. Fisher.

Upon a customer's application for out-of-state liquor, Herbert's opinion read, the "department shall immediately procure the same, by order or otherwise, upon the making of a reasonable deposit by the purchaser."

AN APPLE FOR EVE --

CHAPTER XIV

The days began to go by, and Loveday adapted herself to life in the Bartlett street cottage. What had been strange or objectionable in the Ingersolls' way of doing things gradually became custom and unnoticed, and much of it she enjoyed, partly because she was young and Larry's sisters were young, and largely because they lived with but one object in view, and that object was to extract pleasure from their lives.

The past was a dream that was over. Loveday tried not even to think of it. Larry's convalescence went on more quickly in the hospital; he was presently able to lie on the shady upstairs solarium for hours, dozing in a steamer chair, and with the first burning weeks of August his mother, Loveday, and Betty-Lou took him for two weeks to a little cabin near the ocean where cool fogs and salt-sweet breezes completed the cure.

She was caught now, the jaws of the trap had closed. She and Larry were to be married as soon as they returned to Bakersfield. Larry had the promise of a job at a factory on the outskirts of town, and they planned to omit a honeymoon—Larry had had holiday enough!—and go straight to one of the cottages in the neighborhood.

"We don't have to worry about silver and linen and things like that," Loveday said. "I could get all those things from Indian Hill."

But she did not want to go to Indian Hill. Without analyzing her feeling she shrank away from that thought. It was home no longer.

Letters had been exchanged between her and Aunt Laura. She had written first, reporting that Larry had had a relapse and had been very ill but was convalescent and that she was staying with his family until their "plans were a little clearer." Mrs. St. George had returned an affectionate missive to tell her that Nini was getting ready to go back to school in Bronxville; Fanny was writing happy letters from Ottawa, and "the boys" well and busy. The boys were of course, Marc and Rodney; the letter did not mention Chris or Merle. Uncle Warren had had a touch of flu, just enough to make it pleasant to have him at home for a week being spoiled, and Aunt Laura missed her "private secretary."

"We feel that the handsome Larry is going to steal you from us and want to know all your plans," she wrote. "I can imagine what a difference your visit has made to him, but it was nice having your mother's daughter here with us, too, and you must always remember that what affects you is very important to us."

Uncle Warren also wrote a friendly, fatherly letter, giving Loveday an accounting of her mother's affairs, at last in order. There would be a cash balance of some hundreds, and with Loveday's consent he would continue to send her a fifty-dollar allowance check every month until it was exhausted. There was also Friends Haven, free of encumbrance, with the farmer, Bettancourt, paying a rent for the farm that just covered taxes and insurance, so that it need be no burden upon her until a buyer could be found. Warren St. George had no doubt, he wrote, that someday Loveday could make a more advantageous arrangement than this, but at the moment it seemed the best solution. Wing Foo and Annie Lum were living in the kitchen quarters and acting as guardians of the place; the man sawed wood and looked after the garden; the woman was raising chickens and squabs for the market. Everything, when Warren St. George had gone down there for a last look about, had seemed in fairly good order. Her mother's silver and some small personal possessions had been placed in a safe-deposit box, for the rest, the house stood just as it had been left, and he was sending Loveday the keys. She must let them know how things went with her and be sure to call upon them if ever they could be of the slightest use.

In both letters she read, with a sinking heart, her dismissal from their circle. Loveday could not leave it like that; it broke her heart. She was going to marry Larry, of course. That was settled. But Aunt Laura and Fanny and all of them must know that she still loved them more than anything else in the world, that she was still the honest, grateful girl to whom they had been so kind.

One evening, when everyone else was out and Larry was asleep, she quite suddenly put in a long-distance call to the St. George house in San Francisco. It didn't matter who answered; Rod or Nini, Aunt Laura or Uncle Warren, it would be contact again. They would know that she remembered them; something important must be said, something changed.

It was Warren St. George's voice, vehement and sudden. Hello, was that Cincinnati? Was that Major Kennedy?

"Oh?" he said more mildly when she had explained, over a sinking heart, who she was. "Oh, Loveday . . . Well, glad to hear your voice again, my dear. How are things down your way? . . . I had just put in a call to Cincinnati . . . No, no, no, it can wait . . . I'm alone in the house; Rod's away, and Nini and Laura—your aunt Laura—are in Canada. Your aunt Lura hadn't been so well—she's better—she speaks of you very often. She was a little worried, I think—thought you ought to be up here for a bit before there was any talk of your marrying—might have it from this house, eh? . . . It was something of that sort. But she had this little setback, not serious, but we bundled her off rather suddenly to Mayos'. We feel in a way that you're one of our girls, you know—don't want you to be in too much of a hurry, eh?"

"Larry has been so ill, Uncle Warren, we feel that we couldn't go in for anything like a formal wedding," Loveday began, fighting tears. "Oh, do go on talking to me'" she begged in her heart. "Do go on telling me about them; do say that I'm still one of your girls! It's so good to hear it; I've missed it so! Say that I have to come up and talk to you and maybe go to Canada to see them all when you do!"

"You're pretty sure of yourself, Loveday?" the kindly fatherly voice was saying. "We can't have your mother's girl making any mistake . . . I'd like to have seen you, somewhere in here, but I've been working like an Indian trying to get away to join them all in Canada . . . Your aunt Laura and I will stay there a week or two. Nini will go on to New York, and we will join her there. I've not had a holiday for some time, and I'm just wondering if I'm too tired to enjoy it."

She must put herself into his place, not break her heart wishing he could put himself in hers. Loveday strengthened her voice heroically.
